1           San Diego, California - Tuesday, March 24, 2015

2           (Defendant is being assisted by Mixteco and Spanish
3 interpreters.)

4           THE CLERK: Calling number 2 on the calendar,
5 14-CR-3571, United States of America versus Paulino
6 Herrera-Hernandez. Counsel could state their appearance,
7 please.

8           MS. JINDAL: Good morning, your Honor. Amrutha
9 Jindal, Federal Defenders, on behalf of 10 Mr. Herrera-Hernandez.

11          THE COURT: All right.

12          MR. KATZ: And good morning, your Honor. Benjamin
13 Katz on behalf of the United States.

14          THE COURT: Good morning. Please be seated. I
15 apologize for being late this morning, 15 minutes late. Not 16 going to fine myself like one of the our judges did, but this 17 was on me, and I apologize for keeping everybody waiting.

18          This matter is on today -- pardon me -- for a
19 motion hearing on the 1326 (d) motion filed by the defendant.
20 If that motion is not granted, then my understanding is the 21 defendant is prepared to submit his case on stipulated facts.
22 And I have been presented with a document that purports to be 23 a stipulation of facts agreed to by the parties. Is that 24 your understanding, Mr. Katz, and yours, Ms. Jindal?

25          MR. KATZ: Yes, your Honor.

1 MS. JINDAL: Yes, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: All right. The gist of the 1326 (d)
3 motion is that defendant, who speaks Mixteco, did not
4 understand the proceedings during his deportation hearing.
5 That's essentially it, isn't it, Ms. Jindal?

6 MS. JINDAL: Yes, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: And I understand the government intends
8 to present evidence in connection with the 1326 (d) motion;
9 is that right, Mr. Katz?

10 MR. KATZ: Yes, your Honor, we're prepared to do
11 that, evidence on that point.

12 THE COURT: All right. You may call your witnesses
13 or present whatever evidence you have on the motion.

14 MS. JINDAL: Your Honor, if I may, I would -- I
15 guess I would make two notes with regard to the evidentiary
16 hearing just before we get started. The first is that I
17 think based on what's submitted in the papers, I don't know
18 that an evidentiary hearing is necessary; I don't think that 19 it is because the government hasn't put forth any facts
20 regarding Mr. Herrera-Hernandez's 2009 expedited removal.
21 That's one of the removals we're challenging, and, as your 22 Honor recalls, that's the removal that was later reinstated
23 in 2011.

24 THE COURT: Right.

25 MS. JINDAL: They haven't put forward any evidence

1 regarding what happened in that removal proceeding, so I
2 think the Court can rule on the motion with regards to this
3 due process issue just on the papers itself.

4 THE COURT: Can you -- Ms. Jindal, can you
5 summarize for me the background with respect to immigration
6 proceedings affecting Mr. Herrera; how many times has he been 7 in immigration proceedings?

8 MS. JINDAL: Your Honor, he's had three removals.
9 The first was in June of 2008; that was an expedited removal.
10 The second was February of 2009; that was also an expedited
11 removal. And the third was in May of 2011, which was a
12 reinstatement of the February 2009 removal.

13 THE COURT: Okay. The first two were expedited
14 removals in their own right, stand-alone expedited removals,
15 not reinstatements?

16 MS. JINDAL: Correct. So only the third was a
17 reinstatement, and in my (d) motion, I challenge both the 18 2008 and the 2009 removal. Now, in order for the government
19 to prove that he has a SOC, a specific offense
20 characteristic, that results in a four-level increase based 21 on his 2011 1326 conviction, they would have to prove that 22 the 2009 removal was correct.

23 MR. KATZ: Your Honor, the attack on that removal
24 is that he didn't speak Spanish. If we can establish that he 25 spoke Spanish in 2008 and he speaks Spanish as of his arrest

1 in 2014, it's --

2 THE COURT: You mean as opposed to the Mixteco
3 dialect?

4 MR. KATZ: Your Honor, we don't dispute that he
5 speaks Mixteco as well. Our argument is that he speaks
6 sufficient Spanish to meet the requirement of due process.
7 As far as this 2009 removal, your Honor, proving that he 8 spoke Spanish in 2008 and he spoke Spanish in 2014, it is 9 certainly enough for the Court to conclude that a few months
10 later, he still spoke Spanish.

11 THE COURT: So the evidence I assume would be 12 people who had interacted with him before the date of the 13 2009 removal who would say we conversed with him in Spanish
14 and he understood what was going on, was able to communicate
15 with us?

16 MR. KATZ: Yes, your Honor. Officer Lopez is here
17 to -- is the one who conducted his 2008 removal.

18 THE COURT: That seems competent evidence to me,
19 Ms. Jindal. I mean you can certainly cross-examine him about 20 the extent of their conversation, but yeah, you know, I spoke 21 English yesterday, and when I walked in today, I'm still 22 speaking it and understanding it. So I understand the 23 government's theory here.

24 MS. JINDAL: Given that, your Honor, I do think 25 that any evidence from his most recent arrest in 2014 would

1 not be relevant to the deportation issue because --

2 THE COURT: No, the --

3 MS. JINDAL: -- the deportation issue is what 4 happened in 2008 and 2009, and what happened six or -- five
5 or six years later now doesn't seem relevant to what language
6 he spoke back then.

7 THE COURT: Well, it could or could not be. I mean
8 look, the relevancy bar is very low, as you know, I mean
9 anything that has a tendency in reason to prove a material
10 fact. If -- do you have evidence about his current command
11 of the Spanish language?

12 MR. KATZ: Yes, your Honor. We have the 13 post-arrest video where he converses with Agent Barba, who's 14 also here.

15 THE COURT: Yeah, I -- look, it's not as relevant
16 as showing that he spoke Spanish sometime before, but that 17 he's very conversant in Spanish some six years later, you
18 know, there's two inferences, either that he learned it in 19 the meantime or that he knew it all along and he's always 20 been speaking Spanish, and, you know, it's some -- some 21 evidence of both, so I don't think it's -- I don't think it's 22 not relevant.

23 MR. KATZ: I'd also --

24 THE COURT: I agree with you, Ms. Jindal, that it
25 has less relevance than showing that he was competent and

1 conversant in Spanish before the time of the challenged
2 deportation. But that he speaks it real well afterwards?
3 I'll let them put that on if that's the evidence that they 4 have.

5 MR. KATZ: And --

6 THE COURT: I don't see any probative danger to it.
7 It's not going to take very long to put that on. You've 8 already got that on a video presentation?

9 MR. KATZ: Yes, your Honor. And I'd just point out
10 that the reason that we do think it's relevant here as 11 opposed to suggesting that he learned Spanish in the meantime
12 is his own declaration; in paragraph 6 the defendant says
13 that the little Spanish I know is what I picked up from 14 hearing others speak it while working in the tomato fields in 15 Mexico from 2005 to 2008.

16 THE COURT: All right. You know, look, I do not 17 have a view that he's foreclosed from bringing this action,
18 but the other curious aspect of this to anybody watching it
19 is that this fellow was in front of me. Now, he had a 20 Mixteco interpreter when he was in front of me last time, but 21 the point was I don't think in the last case there was any 22 challenge to the 2009 deportation, right?

23 MS. JINDAL: I was not the attorney on that case
24 nor was Federal Defenders, so --

25 THE COURT: So no, I'm not pointing fingers at

1 anybody, I'm just --

2 MS. JINDAL: Okay, but -- I don't believe there
3 was, but the Ninth Circuit decision in Raya-Vaca only
4 occurred earlier this year, or last year, rather, in 2014, so
5 that very pivotal case didn't exist at the time of his 2011
6 deportation.

7 THE COURT: Well, yeah, okay. So that's another
8 reason. It just strikes me curious that someone can plead 9 guilty, admit an element in an earlier case, the element of 10 deportation, and then say oh, you know, in a later case I
11 wasn't fairly deported. I mean that, it would seem to me and 12 logically suggest to me, even though I know the case law is 13 otherwise, that you'd be foreclosed from doing that; you made
14 an admission, you're sort of stuck with this admission. If 15 you want to fight the deportation, then fight it, but once
16 that's settled, it's settled. But as I said, I understand
17 that that's not the law, and I'm not proceeding on that 18 basis. The government has to face the challenge that's been 19 brought in this case and is prepared to. So with those 20 things said, Mr. Katz, you may call your witnesses.

21 MR. KATZ: Yes, your Honor. The government calls
22 Officer Rodrigo Lopez. Your Honor, while Officer Lopez
23 approaches, I'll point out a mistake that I made in the 24 filing. So this -- our initial filing of our response in 25 opposition was struck because of the timeliness issue that we

1 resolved two weeks ago when I submitted for the second time.
2 When I resubmitted the document, I submitted an unsigned --
3 the unsigned version of Officer Lopez's -- it was correct in 4 the first filing. I have a signed copy here. It was signed
5 on March 3, 2015. It's the same --

6 THE COURT: All right. You may file the signed
7 copy. Tish, if you'll swear Officer Lopez.

8 THE CLERK: Please raise your right hand. Do you
9 solemnly swear the evidence you shall give in the cause now
10 before the Court will be the truth, so help you God?

11 THE WITNESS: Yes.

12 THE CLERK: Will you please state your first and 13 last name.

14 THE WITNESS: First name Rodrigo, last name Lopez.

15 THE COURT: All right. You need to pull the mic up
16 and project your voice a little bit louder; you're not 17 speaking loud enough. Go ahead, Mr. Katz.

18 Rodrigo Lopez
19 was called by the government and testified as follows:

20 Direct Examination

21 BY MR. KATZ: Q. Good morning, Officer Lopez.

22 A. Good morning.

23 Q. How long have you been a CBP officer?

24 A. Since February 2004.

25 Q. And what is your Spanish language background?

1 A. My parents both spoke Spanish, and I grew up speaking
2 Spanish. I went to school in the United States though, so I
3 speak both languages.

4 Q. And you continue to use Spanish today?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. How do you use it?

7 A. Daily basis, talking to people who are coming from Mexico
8 into the United States.

9 Q. Now, you say talking to people coming to the United 10 States --

11 A. At work, yeah.

12 Q. -- from Mexico. Do part of your duties involve taking 13 sworn statements and performing expedited removals of aliens
14 who've entered illegally?

15 A. Yes, they did when I was working there in that unit. I
16 haven't worked in that unit since 2011 --

17 Q. Okay.

18 A. -- but I was -- I did a lot of expedited removals while I
19 was there.

20 Q. So in 2008 that was part of your duties?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. Now, can you describe at that time in 2008 what your 23 process was for taking a sworn statement from an alien who 24 had -- was to be removed via expedited removal.

25 A. They would sit in front of us. We'd read the -- we'd

1 read an explanation of the -- what the interview was all
2 about, what was about to take place, we'd have them raise
3 their right hand and, you know, ask them if they swear to 4 tell the whole truth, and, you know, ask a series of basic 5 questions like biographical questions, name, date of birth,
6 country of citizenship, their reasons for entering,
7 everything like that.

8 Q. And what language would you speak to an alien in?

9 A. Depends on what they were -- where they were from.

10 Q. I imagine that the majority of the time it was Spanish.

11 A. Yes, it was.

12 Q. Were there times when aliens entering even from Mexico
13 did not speak Spanish?

14 A. There was, yeah, there was a few times.

15 Q. And what was the process then?

16 A. We'd either call the telephonic interpreter; we had a 17 agency. There were a few times where if we couldn't get an 18 interpreter there, usually they're traveling with someone who 19 also spoke the language and spoke Spanish, so we'd use them
20 if we wouldn't get one on the telephone.

21 Q. And how, if at all, would you memorialize -- would you
22 record what language an interview was conducted in?

23 A. For the telephonic interpreter, they were assigned a
24 number, so we'd write the number of that interpreter there,
25 and we'd put in the I-867 what language was -- the interview

1 was conducted in.

2 Q. And so you mentioned the I-867; take us through what you
3 would memorialize on that form.

4 A. The type of language that was used, who the interpreter
5 was or their assigned number.

6 Q. And did you have to -- you had to personally enter the 7 language that was used after you conducted the interview?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. And then you would record what you spoke about in the 10 interview in the body of that form?

11 A. Right, correct.

12 Q. And would the alien sign it?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. And initial each page?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. And when would that take place?

17 A. After the interview was complete.

18 Q. So after the interview was complete, you would type up 19 that 867, present it to the alien. Would you read it back to 20 them --

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. -- as you'd written it?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. And then you'd have them sign and initial it?

25 A. Yes.

1 Q. Approximately how many times -- well, let's back up. How 2 long did you work in that role?

3 A. About four years.

4 Q. And in those approximately four years, how many times did
5 you require the assistance of the interpreter line that you
6 mentioned?

7 A. Oh, I'd say 50, around there, maybe.

8 THE COURT: How many?

9 THE WITNESS: Fifty maybe.

10 BY MR. KATZ: Q. And do you recall, were any of 11 those 50 times for the Mixteco dialect?

12 A. I recall a couple for dialects from people from Mexico,
13 but I can't say for sure if it was Mixteco or not.

14 Q. I'd ask you now -- so you have a binder in front of you 15 there.

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. And if you could turn to what's marked as Exhibit 14 in 18 that binder. It's at the very back, and -- I think one page
19 before that. It will have a yellow sticker on there. Do you 20 recognize that?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. What is it?

23 A. This is the I-867.

24 (Exhibit No. 14 identified.)

25 Q. For who does it relate to?

1 A. Paulino Herrera-Hernandez.

2 Q. And what's the date?

3 A. It is June 24, 2008.

4 Q. And this is the same I-867 that you reviewed in 5 connection with submitting your -- your affidavit in this 6 case, correct?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. And what language is indicated on that form?

9 A. Spanish.

10 Q. Now, this was almost seven years ago now. Do you
11 remember Mr. Herrera-Hernandez personally?

12 A. No.

13 Q. But given what you've told us about your practices, can 14 you conclude what language that interview took place in?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. What language was that?

17 A. Spanish.

18 Q. And I see answers in there on some of the basic 19 information that you mentioned, his name, his citizenship, 20 things of that nature. How did all those answers get into 21 the 867?

22 A. Oh, I asked and I got an answer.

23 Q. So it's not your practice I assume to put in those 24 answers based on other sources of information?

25 A. No.

1 Q. So those answers are the answers you're given by the 2 alien?

3 A. Correct.

4 Q. Isn't it -- if an alien at the beginning of your
5 interview said to you I don't understand Spanish, I want
6 Mixteco, if he said that to you in Spanish, what would you
7 have done?

8 A. I would have contacted an interpreter.

9 Q. And furthermore, if during the course of your interview,
10 given your Spanish language background, if it was clear that 11 the defendant didn't understand you, that he spoke a 12 different dialect or different language, would you have 13 continued the interview without an interpreter?

14 A. No.

15 Q. What would you have done?

16 A. Contacted an interpreter.

17 Q. And so based on all this, your practice and what you see
18 from that form there, what conclusion, if any, can you reach
19 about whether the defendant spoke Spanish sufficient to 20 comprehend your questions and give you answers on that day?

21 MS. JINDAL: Objection, your Honor. This 22 question -- this witness is not qualified as an expert, and 23 that question is asking about whether he -- how he understood
24 my client's ability to understand Spanish, which I think
25 would require expert testimony.

1 THE COURT: The gist of the question is asking him
2 what his habit and custom is in these circumstances?

3 MR. KATZ: To conclude based on his habit and 4 custom and his own document whether --

5 THE COURT: Reframe the question --

6 MR. KATZ: Sure.

7 THE COURT: -- Mr. Katz.

8 BY MR. KATZ: Q. Given what you've -- what we've 9 talked about on that form, do you believe that -- and your -- 10 excuse me. Given what we talked about on that form and your 11 practice as you've described it, do you believe that the 12 defendant answered your questions in Spanish?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. And do you believe that he understood your questions in 15 Spanish so as to answer them?

16 MS. JINDAL: Objection again, your Honor; same
17 reasons, calls for expert testimony.

18 THE COURT: No, overruled. You may answer. The 19 question to you is concentrating on the form -- understanding
20 that you don't recall the interaction with Mr. Herrera from 21 personal knowledge -- looking at the form, do you believe
22 that you conversed in Spanish with him and communicated 23 required warnings and information that you had to 24 communicate?

25 THE WITNESS: I do, yes.

1 MR. KATZ: I have nothing further, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: You may cross-examine.

3 Cross-Examination

4 BY MS. JINDAL: Q. Good morning.

5 A. Morning.

6 Q. You were only present during the expedited removal in 7 2008 for Mr. Herrera-Hernandez, correct?

8 A. Correct.

9 Q. You did not -- you were not present for the expedited
10 removal in 2009 for Mr. Herrera?

11 A. No.

12 Q. And you said that you don't specifically remember the 13 actual proceeding with Mr. Herrera?

14 A. No.

15 Q. But you reviewed your record of sworn statement?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. Let me ask you a few questions about that. I think you
18 said in your direct testimony that the record of sworn 19 statement -- I'm sorry -- you said in your affidavit that the 20 record of sworn statement memorializes the statements made by 21 Mr. Herrera; is that right?

22 A. Correct.

23 Q. At the time that you're interviewing Mr. Herrera, you're 24 taking -- are you taking handwritten notes?

25 A. No, I'm typing. Usually we're -- I have the computer in

1 front of me with a keyboard and --

2 Q. So you're taking --

3 A. -- the questions are written in advance, and then as he
4 answers, I'll type up the response.

5 Q. Okay. And was that proceeding recorded?

6 A. No.

7 Q. So there's no video or audio recording of what you did in 8 2008?

9 A. No.

10 Q. Now, you said that you're typing the answers into the 11 form. What you're typing in is basically a summary of his 12 response, right?

13 A. Sometimes, yes.

14 Q. You're not typing a verbatim, you know, word-for-word
15 transcript of what he said?

16 A. Depends on how long the answer is.

17 Q. Okay. So let me give you an example. If -- if you asked 18 Mr. Herrera "What is your true and correct name?" and he 19 responded "Paulino," and you followed up with "What is your 20 last name?" and he responded "Herrera-Hernandez," that level
21 of detail, the back and forth, would probably not be included
22 in the record of sworn statement, right? It would 23 probably --

24 A. Like if I asked "What's your last name?" and then "What's 25 your middle name?" and "Do you have....," no, not always, no.

1 Q. You would just write his full name in response to the 2 question of "What is your name?"

3 A. Yeah. I usually asked "What is your full name?" is what 4 I usually ask.

5 Q. And if a person -- if a person provided you with -- so if 6 somebody asks you to repeat a question or somebody paused for 7 a long time before answering the question, scratched their 8 head, looked confused, that type of information wouldn't be 9 reflected in the record of sworn statement, right? It's just 10 the words that are in the record of sworn statement?

11 A. Something minor like that would not, no.

12 Q. You also said that, looking at that document, exhibit --
13 Government Exhibit 14, that you included the language that 14 was included -- that was being spoken at the top of the 15 document; is that right?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. And tell me why that's important.

18 A. So that it's clear that the person understood what was 19 being said to them and they understood the nature of the 20 proceedings.

21 Q. So the only reason why you know that this happened in 22 Spanish is because that word, "Spanish," is included in the 23 language column there on the form?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. Otherwise it could have happened in English?

1 A. I would have -- I would put English if we did it in 2 English. I mean I've had people who spoke English who --
3 from Mexico, and I've written "English" on the --

4 Q. And the practice of including the language in that line
5 on the form, is that something that you're trained to do by 6 Customs and Border Protection?

7 A. That's something that is pretty much mandatory that you
8 need to put there, yeah.

9 MS. JINDAL: No further questions.

10 THE COURT: Agent Lopez, I have some questions for 11 you.

12 Examination

13 BY THE COURT: Q. This interview with Mr. Herrera
14 took place in June of 2008, and you know that now having 15 refreshed your memory by looking at this form, the I-867A; is 16 that right?

17 A. Correct.

18 Q. Keep your voice up. How -- how many years before 2008
19 had you been a Border Patrol agent or Homeland Security 20 agent?

21 A. Four.

22 Q. Okay. And do you -- can you give me a ballpark of how 23 many of these types of interviews you'd done in the four 24 years prior to June of 2008.

25 A. Prior to 2008?

1 Q. Yeah, just a ballpark. I wouldn't expect you to know an
2 exact number. Was it dozens or hundreds or --

3 A. It's probably over a hundred.

4 Q. Okay. You mentioned that you think on possibly about 50
5 occasions you've called the interpreter number because the 6 person didn't either speak English or Spanish --

7 A. Or another language.

8 Q. Or another language.

9 A. We have had a lot of people from Africa and Haiti and --

10 Q. Okay. Have you ever dealt with someone who maintained
11 his first language was Mixteco? Have you ever had one of 12 those?

13 A. That I can't recall. I know I've spoken to people who 14 spoke Mexican dialect, but there's more than -- there's 15 Zapotec, there's Mayan, there's different dialects.

16 Q. Okay. Are you under -- are you in any type of rush when 17 you do these things or do you have the time to go through and 18 make sure the person that you're interviewing understands all
19 the questions and is answering responsively?

20 A. There were times when they'd assign us a lot of ERs.

21 Q. Okay. I mean I want to know what your practice is. Do
22 you ever take shortcuts? Would you ever fill one of these 23 out, for example, these I-867As, and say that a person was,
24 you know, waiving, giving up rights if you weren't convinced
25 that that was the case? Did you ever do that?

1 A. No, no.

2 Q. Okay. Here on this one that's marked as Government's 3 Exhibit 14, it appears that -- that at the bottom and 4 continuing on to the second page that you asked specific 5 questions, then you show answers were given to those 6 questions; do you see that?

7 A. Where at?

8 Q. It starts at the bottom of the first page of Exhibit 14, 9 which is the I-867A dated June 24, 2008. It's the one that 10 Mr. Katz called your attention to I think.

11 MR. KATZ: Yes.

12 BY THE COURT: Q. And it goes on to the second
13 page and a third page. It's a question-and-answer dialog
14 that's recorded there; do you see that?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. Would you ever put in like that a person answered "Yes"
17 if you weren't absolutely convinced that the person was 18 giving you an affirmative answer to your question?

19 A. No, no.

20 Q. Would you ever purport to put in a response from a person
21 if it wasn't absolutely clear to you that the person
22 understood the question you were putting to him or her?

23 A. I would never do that, no.

24 Q. Okay. You understand the implications of making sure the 25 process is followed? Do you understand why that's important?

1 A. Yes, yes.

2 Q. Do you understand that aliens have due process rights and
3 some of them may be able to gain relief from deportation,
4 they may be eligible for voluntary return that wouldn't have
5 collateral consequences that a deportation would have? Do
6 you understand that?

7 A. Yes, I do.

8 Q. Was that part of your training before June of 2008?

9 A. Yes, that is something we --

10 Q. Did your training emphasize that it was important to be 11 precise and to make sure the person you were conversing with 12 understood you?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. Okay. So I asked you about taking shortcuts, and you
15 said well, sometimes we get a lot of people. I mean the fact
16 that you may be busy or may have a lot on your plate or a
17 number of people waiting to be interviewed, would that ever
18 lead you to take a shortcut and write "No" when the person
19 said "Yes" or write "No" when the person didn't understand
20 you? Would you ever do that?

21 A. No.

22 Q. Okay. So on this form then respecting
23 Mr. Herrera-Hernandez, I'm assuming you stand by the answers
24 that you typed in, that knowing your habit and custom, these 25 are answers that Mr. Herrera-Hernandez gave to you at the 1 time?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. Okay. And can I -- from you, can you assure me that not
4 only is the answer correct, that he said that, but before you
5 recorded it, you were sure that he understood the call of the 6 question, what you were asking him; can you assure me of 7 that?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. Is that your habit and custom too?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. Now, you're typing into a computer. Is it a 12 divided-attention task where you're also looking at the 13 person who's being interviewed during the process of 14 recording the information?

15 A. Yes. They're usually sitting right across from me.

16 Q. So when you put the question to them, are you typically 17 looking at the person in the face?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. Then they'll give an answer, and you'll record the answer
20 by typing it?

21 A. Correct.

22 Q. And then look back up before asking the next question?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. If you -- if you see an expression on somebody's face
25 that evinces to you that the person doesn't understand or

1 maybe hasn't gotten the call of the question, what's your 2 procedure?

3 A. I'll ask them if they understand. I'll repeat the 4 question if they don't. Then I'll ask if they need to speak
5 in another language, if they need me to ask the questions in 6 a different language.

7 Q. Okay. Have you ever had an occasion where in the midst
8 of an interview, you've had to stop and call the interpreter
9 line?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. Okay. And have you done that --

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. -- when there's -- and what reason did you do that?

14 A. I had -- I remember -- I can recall -- because I've had 15 several people from either Haiti or the Middle East, who said
16 they spoke English and we started off the interview in 17 English --

18 Q. Right.

19 A. -- but then during the -- during the course of the 20 interview, it was apparent that they really weren't that 21 fluent in English --

22 Q. Right.

23 A. -- so I just called an interpreter.

24 Q. So did they ask you to call the interpreter or did you
25 decide that's what you needed to do based on the procedures

1 that you -- there wasn't good communication between you in 2 English, you thought it best to have an interpreter in their
3 native language, is that a decision you made or did they ask
4 for it?

5 A. It was a decision I made.

6 Q. Okay. And was that based on the interaction, looking at 7 a person in the face as you went along through the interview?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. Have you ever not done that? Have you ever kind of let 10 one slip through when you weren't sure that the person was 11 completely understanding everything?

12 A. No.

13 Q. Would you ever do that?

14 A. No.

15 Q. Okay. When you look at this and the series of questions
16 and answers, are you confident that in this case -- even 17 though you don't remember the details but based on your habit
18 and custom and looking at the recording of answers here, are 19 you confident that there was understanding communications
20 between you and the person who's the subject of this I-867A?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. All right. Would you ever process someone for expedited
23 removal if you had any questions about whether they 24 understood the process or the questions that you were putting 25 to them?

1 A. No.

2 Q. All right. You would kind of "stop the presses" at that 3 point and make sure the person understood; is that what 4 you're saying?

5 A. Yes.

6 THE COURT: Okay. Any other questions based on the 7 Court's questions?

8 MR. KATZ: I just have one question based on 9 defense counsel's question --

11 Redirect Examination

12 BY MR. KATZ: Q. -- which is you talked about how 13 sometimes if there's a long answer or a follow-up question is 14 needed, you'll put in a non-verbatim answer in here, you'll 15 put what the answer you got to eventually was; is that 16 correct?

17 A. Correct.

18 Q. But you read back the full statement to an alien in their 19 native language before they sign it at the conclusion,
20 correct?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. So the alien is given the opportunity to see your -- the 23 response that you put in for them?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. And have you ever had occasion where upon reviewing that,

1 an alien has corrected the answer that you took down?

2 A. I'm sure that that's happened probably, yeah.

3 Q. And if they did, would you then update the 867 to correct
4 the mistake that they raised?

5 A. Yes.

6 MR. KATZ: Nothing further, your Honor.

7 MS. JINDAL: Your Honor, a few questions.

8 Recross-Examination

9 BY MS. JINDAL: Q. With regards to the correction,
10 would that be visible on the final record of sworn statement
11 or is that something you delete and edit on the computer?

12 A. I'd probably delete and just write the correct response.

13 Q. Okay. And when you first interview a person, do you ask
14 them if they would prefer to proceed in English or Spanish?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. And those are the two options you give them because those 17 are the two languages that you speak, right?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. And you're familiar with the Mixteco language; you know 20 it exists?

21 A. I've heard of it, yes.

22 Q. I mean you don't understand it, right?

23 A. No.

24 Q. And you don't speak it?

25 A. No.

1 Q. And you didn't -- you don't give an individual -- you
2 don't ask them if they would prefer to go forward in Mixteco?

3 A. Unless -- if they say they speak it, yeah, I'll ask
4 "Would you prefer that language?"

5 MS. JINDAL: No further questions of the witness.

6 Examination

7 BY THE COURT: Q. If -- you say you don't speak or 8 understand the Mixteco dialect yourself?

9 A. Correct, yes.

10 Q. If you -- and this is asking you to give me an opinion of 11 what you would do based on your habit and custom -- but if 12 you found that there was a communication barrier between you
13 and a person who spoke Mixteco such that you weren't even 14 convinced that the person understood Spanish, would you call
15 the interpreter line at that point given that circumstance?
16 Is that one of the times you would do that?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. You wouldn't proceed and try to force the interview in 19 Spanish?

20 A. No.

21 THE COURT: Any other questions?

22 MR. KATZ: No, your Honor. Thank you.

23 MS. JINDAL: No, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. You may stand
25 down. Any other evidence at this time?

1           MR. KATZ: Yes, your Honor. The government calls
2 Officer Barba to the stand.

3           THE CLERK: Please raise your right hand. Do you
4 solemnly swear the evidence you shall give in the cause now
5 before the Court will be the truth, so help you God?

6           THE WITNESS: Yes.

7                       Araceli Barba De La Cruz
8 was called by the government and testified as follows:

9           THE CLERK: State and spell your first and last 10 name for the record.

11           THE WITNESS: Araceli, A-r-a-c-e-l-i, Barba De La
12 Cruz, B a r b a space D-e space L-a -- De La Cruz.

13                               Direct Examination

14           BY MR. KATZ: Q. Agent Barba, what do you do for 15 work?

16           A. I'm a Border Patrol agent.

17           Q. And how long have you been with the Border Patrol?

18           A. Since June of 2002.

19           Q. What is your Spanish language background?

20           A. It was my first language.

21           Q. Do you still regularly use Spanish?

22           A. Yes.

23           Q. In what contexts?

24           A. Whenever I speak to my mom, whenever I speak to family,
25 at home with my son, at work when I interview -- when I

1 conduct interviews, over the phone, a lot of times even with
2 friends or co-workers who speak Spanish.

3 Q. Were you working as a Border Patrol agent on the night of 4 November -- or the morning, excuse me -- the November --
5 morning of November 15, 2014?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. And what were your duties on that night?

8 A. I was assigned to ASID, Alien Smuggling Identification
9 and Deterrence.

10 Q. And did you have reason to come into contact with an 11 individual named Paulino Herrera-Hernandez on that morning?

12 A. Yes, I did.

13 Q. I'm sorry?

14 A. Yes, I did.

15 Q. And in what context?

16 A. I was requested to interview him.

17 Q. And interviews like this, is this a regular part of your 18 duties as a Border Patrol agent?

19 A. Yes, it is.

20 Q. In your career, if you had to estimate how many such 21 interviews you've conducted, what would you estimate?

22 A. Hundreds.

23 Q. Did you ask the defendant whether he wanted to proceed in 24 English or Spanish?

25 A. I did.

1 Q. And what did he say?

2 A. Spanish.

3 Q. Did you then proceed to interview him regarding his 4 citizenship?

5 A. I did.

6 Q. Regarding the circumstances of his entering the United 7 States?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. Regarding his parents' citizenship?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. Regarding whether he had immigration documents?

12 A. I did.

13 Q. Was he able to answer all of your questions?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. Have you reviewed -- excuse me. Was that interview video
16 recorded?

17 A. It was.

18 Q. And have you reviewed that video recording since the 19 morning of November 15, 2014?

20 A. Yes, I have.

21 Q. Is it a fair and accurate representation of the interview
22 that took place?

23 A. Yes, it is.

24 MR. KATZ: Your Honor, at this time I'd --

25 THE COURT: All right. The Court augments its

1 ruling on the objection, having refreshed my memory of 2 Mr. Herrera-Hernandez's declaration also. I find that the 3 offer of proof respecting the video and the defendant's
4 understanding of the Spanish language -- not Mixteco dialect
5 but the Spanish language -- is a relevant fact. At page 2 he 6 says, at paragraph 4 "I speak Mixteco. It's the only
7 language that I understand completely and speak fluently."
8 He's speaking in the here and now, at least according to the 9 declaration. It goes on at paragraph 5 by saying "I
10 understand and speak very little Spanish." Next page, 11 paragraph 6: "The little Spanish I know is what I picked up 12 from hearing others while working in the tomato fields of 13 Mexico between 2005 and 2008."

14           So the defendant has proffered, at least according 15 to the declaration, as I understand a fair reading of it, is 16 that he still doesn't understand Spanish. He's speaking in 17 current. He's not saying in 2008 I didn't understand
18 Spanish, I do now; he's saying I still don't understand it,
19 Mixteco is my first language.

20           So, again, this is to augment the ruling I made
21 earlier on the relevancy of his command of the Spanish
22 language in 2015. If he speaks it now and the video shows
23 that or shows no lack of understanding of an interview
24 conducted in Spanish, it would contradict what he's put in 25 his declaration. So with that said, you may play the video.

1 BY MR. KATZ: Q. Agent Barba, you can see the
2 video on the screen in front of you.

3 (The video recording was played.)

4 BY MR. KATZ: Q. Let the record reflect that as 5 the video that we just watched was playing, a translation was 6 synced and displayed below; is that correct, Agent Barba?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. And I notice in there a few things I'd like to talk to 9 you about. You -- after you read the defendant his rights, 10 you asked him to come closer, to walk towards you to sign the 11 form regarding his rights; is that correct?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. You instructed him first to come closer?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. What did he do in response to that instruction?

16 A. He moved closer.

17 Q. And you told him that you needed him to sign a form and 18 to initial it in a few other places; is that correct?

19 A. That's correct.

20 Q. You didn't define for him what the word "initial" meant?

21 A. No.

22 Q. And did he in fact sign and initial that form?

23 A. He did.

24 MR. KATZ: Let the record reflect I'm now showing
25 what has now been marked as Government Exhibit 15 to defense

1 counsel. Your Honor, may I approach?

2 THE COURT: Sure.

3 BY MR. KATZ: Q. Do you recognize that form, Agent
4 Barba?

5 A. I do.

6 Q. And what is it?

7 A. That's what we call the 214.

8 (Exhibit No. 15 identified.)

9 Q. And is that the form that you requested the defendant to 10 initial and sign?

11 A. Yes, it is.

12 Q. And in the spots where it says to initial, are the 13 defendant's initials present?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. And in the place where his signature is required, is his 16 signature present?

17 A. Yes, it is.

18 THE COURT: I don't think I have Exhibit 15.

19 MR. KATZ: Yes, your Honor. I just pulled it and 20 added it.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. KATZ: So I submit that now.

23 BY MR. KATZ: Q. So now having reviewed the video
24 and based on your recollection, were you able to converse
25 with the defendant in Spanish?

1 A. Yes, I was.

2 Q. Did you believe that an interpreter was necessary for the 3 defendant to comprehend what was taking place?

4 A. No.

5 Q. Did the defendant at any time tell you that he needed the 6 assistance of a Mixteco interpreter?

7 A. No.

8 Q. Did he tell you that he didn't understand Spanish?

9 A. No.

10 MR. KATZ: Your Honor, that's all I have at this
11 time.

12 THE COURT: All right. Cross-examination?

13 Cross-Examination

14 BY MS. JINDAL: Q. Agent Barba, at the start of 15 the interview, you gave Mr. Herrera-Hernandez two options for 16 languages, Spanish or English, right?

17 A. That's correct.

18 Q. You didn't ask him what language he spoke?

19 A. I did not.

20 Q. And you explained to him your rights, which we just saw 21 in the video, correct?

22 A. Correct.

23 Q. And that's something that you do to every individual that 24 you interview?

25 A. If we're contemplating a criminal prosecution, yes.

1 Q. And this video was recorded because you were
2 contemplating a criminal prosecution, right?

3 A. All of our interview rooms (sic) at our station are 4 recorded.

5 Q. Okay. And after you read him his rights, you asked him
6 if he understood his rights, and Mr. Herrera-Hernandez said
7 "No."

8 A. That is correct.

9 Q. And then you asked him again, "You don't understand your 10 rights?" and he said "No."

11 A. That's correct.

12 Q. And then you had to go through reach right individually,
13 right?

14 A. That's right.

15 Q. Another question that you asked him is what country he's 16 a citizen of, correct?

17 A. Correct.

18 Q. And his response was "Prieto" --

19 A. Okay.

20 Q. -- is that correct? Do you remember?

21 A. I know there was a couple where he said Prieto, but I'm 22 not sure if he was saying Oaxaca or Prieto. I noticed some 23 of them weren't properly translated in the transcript, some 24 of the stuff, minor stuff, but overall it was.

25 Q. So when you asked what country are you a citizen of, he

1 didn't respond I'm a citizen of Mexico?

2 A. Correct.

3 Q. He's -- based on the video, it appeared that he said
4 "Prieto"?

5 A. I would have to listen to it.

6 Q. Okay. Would it be helpful for me to show you the 7 transcript?

8 A. No, the video, because the transcript, like I said,
9 there's parts that are not exact, and I noticed that in 10 reviewing the transcript.

11 Q. Okay.

12 A. It would help if I would watch the video in that specific 13 part.

14 Q. Well, we could play it back for you if that would be 15 helpful. I know that it would be kind of time-consuming, 16 but --

17 A. That would --

18 THE COURT: Yeah. Is the gist of your -- I think 19 the question Ms. Jindal's putting to you is you asked him of 20 what country are you a citizen, and he -- as I recall the 21 video, he answered by stating his province or his state where 22 he was from.

23 THE WITNESS: Right.

24 THE COURT: And then you followed up, and he
25 finally came around and said "Mexico" when you said

1 "country." Is that the way it went down?

2 THE WITNESS: Pretty much.

3 THE COURT: You asked him about where his parents
4 were from --

5 THE WITNESS: Correct.

6 THE COURT: -- and he gave the state or the 7 province --

8 THE WITNESS: Correct.

9 THE COURT: -- and then you asked him what country,
10 and he came around to saying "Mexico" eventually?

11 THE WITNESS: Right. I don't think he said Mexico.
12 I may have asked him are you Mexican or are they from Mexico.

13 THE COURT: Okay.

14 BY MS. JINDAL: Q. So you would agree that you had 15 to ask him repeated times what country are you a citizen of?
16 He didn't answer Mexico in response to your initial question?

17 A. That's correct. Can I say something?

18 Q. Well, let me keep asking the questions.

19 A. Okay.

20 Q. It appeared that you asked him -- after he said "Prieto"
21 or the local province or whatever it was a few times, that 22 you ended up asking him if he's Mexican, and his response was 23 "Yes, Mixteco." Is that right?

24 A. I believe so.

25 Q. And you're aware that Mixteco is a language that is

1 spoken in certain provinces in Mexico, right?

2 A. It's also considered a region in Mexico, not just a
3 language.

4 Q. But you're aware that the language of Mixteco exists?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. And you're aware that people from the state of Guerrero
7 speak Mixteco?

8 A. Like I said, it's not just Guerrero, it's a region. I
9 believe it connects part of Veracruz, part of Oaxaca, and 10 part of Guerrero.

11 THE COURT: Ms. Jindal, clarify for me. I thought
12 he said "Mixtec," without the "o" on it when he was asked 13 about that. Was it Mixtec or Mixteco? I thought that he was 14 asked and he said "Mixtec."

15 MS. JINDAL: I think that -- let's see the 16 transcript I have. So in the transcript provided by the U.S.
17 Attorney's office and what was included in the video here, it
18 was "Mixtec." However, I think what your Honor may be 19 thinking about was the record of sworn statement --

20 THE COURT: No, I'm thinking about this. That's 21 what -- you said "Mixteco," and I thought he said "Mixtec"
22 when he was asked about -- as to that. Is it -- no "o" on it
23 in the interview, correct?

24 MS. JINDAL: I think it -- I think there was an 25 "o," but I would probably need to rewatch it. I don't know

1 that that really makes much of a difference, your Honor,
2 because my understanding is that Mixtec and Mixteco are the 3 same thing.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MS. JINDAL: They both refer to the language and 6 the people.

7 THE WITNESS: Or region.

8 THE COURT: Does one refer to a region?

9 MS. JINDAL: So my understanding is that Mixteco is 10 -- and I'm sure our Mixteco interpreter could provide much
11 more information than I can -- but my understanding is that 12 Mixteco is the name of the people as well as the language.
13 So while he says -- while he may be from Guerrero, he 14 identifies himself as a Mixteco and the language that he 15 speaks is Mixteco.

16 THE COURT: Okay. All right.

17 BY MS. JINDAL: Q. So at some point
18 Mr. Herrera-Hernandez, in response to this question about 19 citizenship, said Mixteco or even Mixtec, right?

20 A. Something that sounded to that effect.

21 Q. And you just testified that you're aware that Mixteco is 22 an indigenous language or a dialect spoken in certain parts
23 of Mexico?

24 A. Correct.

25 Q. And at that point when he said Mixteco, you didn't ask

1 him if he spoke Mixteco, right?

2 A. No.

3 Q. And you didn't seek the assistance of a Mixteco
4 interpreter?

5 A. No. It was not requested.

6 Q. But based on the fact that he said Mixteco, you didn't 7 follow up to see if that was the language that he spoke?

8 A. No.

9 Q. He also had some difficulty answering some of your 10 questions, right?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. You had to follow up --

13 A. I -- I don't know. I'm not truly sure if it was a not -- 14 a lack of understanding it or just not being forthcoming.

15 Q. But it was clear that he wasn't answering the questions
16 that you were asking in a way that you were able to 17 understand?

18 A. Some of it he may have been mumbling or I may have 19 interpreted it as being evasive.

20 Q. Now, do you understand Mixteco?

21 A. I do not.

22 Q. So it's possible that his mumbling could have been him
23 speaking Mixteco, right?

24 A. It's possible.

25 Q. So, for example, when you ask him how he entered this

1 time on this occasion, his response was "at the booth",
2 through the booth"; is that right?

3 A. Correct.

4 Q. And then you had to clarify again and you asked him "So
5 you didn't enter through the port of entry," then he said
6 "No," right?

7 A. I do that every time just to make sure that they didn't
8 present themselves to the port of entry --

9 Q. Okay.

10 A. -- when I'm doing an interview.

11 Q. But you would agree that when you asked him how he 12 entered this time, he answered included saying "at the 13 booth," and then saying "it was through the hills," and then 14 giving multiple responses about whether a fence existed; is 15 that right?

16 A. Yes. And the booth is that -- there's a tollbooth on 17 the -- on the road on the south side, south of the mountain
18 range where he entered.

19 THE COURT: What did you understand his reference
20 to the booth to be, a --

21 THE WITNESS: Landmark on the south side.

22 THE COURT: Okay. So an area in the hills, not a
23 port of entry?

24 THE WITNESS: No, it's not a port of entry. It's 25 the Tecate Highway actually. And there's a tollbooth between

1 TJ and Otay -- or between Otay and Tecate, and the aliens
2 often use that tollbooth as a reference of where they drop
3 off because they can see the fence.

4 THE COURT: But when he said "booth," you
5 understood he was referring to that landmark in --

6 THE WITNESS: Absolutely.

7 THE COURT: -- in the hills?

8 THE WITNESS: Yeah, and I -- absolutely.

9 THE COURT: Go ahead, Ms. Jindal.

10 BY MS. JINDAL: Q. You also asked him at the end a
11 question which was "Why are you afraid to return to Mexico?"
12 and I think this may have been a situation where the 13 translation didn't catch his response.

14 A. Correct.

15 Q. It sounded like he responded saying something about his 16 wife and his children; is that right?

17 A. Correct.

18 Q. So in response to the question of why you're afraid to 19 return to Mexico, Mr. Herrera-Hernandez said something about 20 his wife and kids?

21 A. He said "Yes. I have a wife and kids."

22 Q. You also prepared a record of sworn statement in this
23 case, correct?

24 A. I did.

25 Q. And I believe -- if you'd turn to Government Exhibit 13

1 in the binder. Do you recognize that as the record of sworn
2 statement that you prepared?

3 A. Yes.

4 (Exhibit No. 13 identified.)

5 Q. And were you preparing this record of sworn statement
6 simultaneously as you interviewed Mr. Herrera-Hernandez?

7 A. No.

8 Q. You were taking handwritten notes?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. And then you later typed up the record of sworn statement
11 based on your handwritten notes?

12 A. That's correct.

13 Q. Looking on the first page, in the middle of the first 14 page, one of the questions that's asked or is elicited is "Of 15 what country are you a citizen?" Correct?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. And the answer written is "Mixteco."

18 A. Okay.

19 Q. Do you see that?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. That was an answer you wrote, correct?

22 A. Correct.

23 Q. And underneath that it says "Are you a citizen of 24 Mexico?"

25 A. Correct.

1 Q. And it says "Yes, Mexican"?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. Now, we just watched the interview, right?

4 A. Okay.

5 Q. At no point in the interview did that dialog of "Are you
6 a citizen of Mexico?" with the answer of "Yes, Mexican" take 7 place, did it?

8 A. Like I said, I take handwritten notes, and it might not
9 be an exact translation I mean like verbatim of what my notes
10 were, what he said. I don't go back and view the video when 11 I'm typing up my notes -- I mean when I'm typing up my sworn 12 statement.

13 Q. So the sworn statement may not accurately reflect what 14 was said in the interview because you're going off of your 15 notes and summarizing what you believe he said?

16 A. I think it accurately reflects it. It might not be 17 verbatim, but I think it does accurately reflect what took 18 place in the interview, and --

19 Q. At any -- at any point in the interview did
20 Mr. Herrera-Hernandez say yes, I'm a Mexican citizen?

21 A. No.

22 Q. And this record of sworn statement also doesn't contain 23 his original responses to your question regarding 24 citizenship, which were stating "Prieto" or whatever the 25 province was that he's from, right?

1 A. Correct.

2 Q. And this record of sworn statement also doesn't reflect
3 what we saw in the video with the brackets "U.I.," which 4 signifies unintelligible; it doesn't reflect any of the 5 responses that he gave that you just didn't understand,
6 correct?

7 A. Correct. If I didn't understand it, I didn't put it in.

8 MS. JINDAL: No further questions, your Honor. Oh,
9 actually -- sorry -- could I ask one more question?

10 THE COURT: Sure. Of course.

11 BY MS. JINDAL: Q. And regarding Government
12 Exhibit 15, which Mr. Herrera-Hernandez -- contained
13 Mr. Herrera-Hernandez's signature that was previously shown 14 to you during your direct testimony --

15 A. Correct.

16 Q. -- Mr. Katz asked you if you asked Mr. Herrera-Hernandez
17 to approach to sign, and you said that you did, and 18 Mr. Herrera-Hernandez approached you to sign the form, right?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. And you pointed to him where to sign, right? I think we 21 saw that in the video.

22 A. Right. I read the -- there was a question, and then I
23 pointed out the line after the question that I had asked him.

24 MS. JINDAL: Okay. So no further questions.

25 THE COURT: I have a couple questions for you.

BY THE COURT: Q. Have you ever encountered a situation before this time where you asked somebody of what country they were a citizen and then they responded by telling you what province or state they were from in Mexico?

Q. Is that fairly common?

A. It's common even of U.S. citizens; sometimes you ask them when you interview them, you know, what country are you a citizen, and they say California.

Q. I couldn't see you on the video. Were you attempting to write down his answers?

A. I was. I was taking notes.

Q. When you asked him questions, would you look at the defendant?

A. Yes. That's why I don't type while I'm writing it, so it's a more interactive conversation.

Q. At any point during the interview, did you think there was a failure of communication or lack of understanding on his part as to what you were asking?

A. No.

Q. You said at one point when he asked about a word or a statement was repeated several times, you thought he was being evasive?

A. Correct.

1 Q. Was that your impression, that he was being evasive as 2 opposed to a lack of understanding?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. And what did you base that impression on?

5 A. When -- because it was at times where I asked him, you
6 know, how did you enter, where -- did you go over the fence,
7 did you go around the fence, was there a fence, and then
8 about him knowing the route into the United States and all
9 the way to where his destination was, which was Santa Maria.

10 Q. Well, this interview, it looked it started about eight 11 o'clock in the morning, something like that?

12 A. Correct.

13 Q. And did he appear tired to you during the interview?

14 A. Perhaps tired.

15 Q. Well, it appeared to me when I watched the interview that 16 he was rubbing his face from time to time; did you see that?

17 A. I did.

18 Q. And -- I don't know what your impression was -- did you 19 have any impression that he was fatigued or tired or he'd 20 been up for a long time?

21 A. He may have been. To me, I interpreted it more as being 22 fidgety, not real comfortable with the responses.

23 Q. Do you know where he had been before he was interviewed?

24 A. In a cell.

25 Q. Okay. And do you know how long?

1 A. I don't know. I don't recall.

2 Q. He said in the -- during the interview that he'd actually
3 entered the United States three days before the interview.

4 A. Correct.

5 Q. Did that correspond with reports that you had from 6 whoever found him?

7 A. I don't typically check that when I -- before I
8 interview, but considering where he entered, it would not be 9 uncommon.

10 Q. How did he come to be in the room where you interviewed
11 him? Did you fetch him from a cell?

12 A. My partner, my witness, went to go get him.

13 Q. All right. And do you know how long he'd been in the 14 cell? Do you know?

15 A. Like I said, I couldn't tell for -- I couldn't tell you
16 for sure.

17 Q. Do you know --

18 A. Typically less than -- he'd be at a station less than six 19 hours.

20 Q. Oh, at your station. So he was brought from somewhere
21 else to the station?

22 A. From the field, from the mountains where he was 23 apprehended.

24 Q. Okay. So let's see. If this interview began at 8:00, he 25 would have been apprehended what, 2 a.m.?

1 A. Yeah. I don't know. Like I said, it was less,
2 definitely would have been -- it would have been less than 3 six hours but I'm not sure how much.

4 Q. Okay. Was he -- he was interviewed sometime during the 5 a.m. hours, between midnight and 6 a.m. or -- I don't mean
6 interviewed -- he was apprehended some -- to your 7 understanding, sometime between --

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. -- noon -- or midnight and 6 a.m.?

10 A. Yes.

11 Q. Okay. And then he would have been brought to the station
12 and put in a cell before you interviewed him?

13 A. Correct.

14 Q. Okay. And is there -- is there a bed in the cell?

15 A. Some of them have benches, and some of them have mats.

16 Q. Okay. Do you have any idea how long he'd been up before
17 the interview?

18 A. I don't.

19 THE COURT: Any other questions based on the 20 Court's questions?

21 MR. KATZ: I just have a few, your Honor, briefly.

22 Further Redirect Examination

23 BY MR. KATZ: Q. Defense counsel asked after he 24 told you that he was Mixtec or Mixteco, why you didn't then 25 get an interpreter or confirm that you didn't get an

1 interpreter -- excuse me. Why didn't you get an interpreter
2 at that point?

3 A. I was talking to -- I was talking to -- I felt I was 4 talking to him fine and he was understanding what I was 5 saying.

6 Q. And his answer regarding why he was afraid to return to 7 Mexico, that he had a wife and children, what did you
8 interpret that to mean?

9 A. Not uncommon from somebody from Guerrero.

10 Q. And when you say it's not uncommon, what do you mean?

11 A. Because of the lack of work and they needed to support
12 them; if they return to Mexico, then they're unable to 13 support them.

14 Q. So your interpret -- that was your interpretation is that 15 he --

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. -- he was afraid to return to Mexico because he needed to 18 work in the United States?

19 A. He needed to financially support his family, yes.

20 Q. And then finally --

21 THE COURT: Are you interpreting that or are you
22 saying that that's a common answer from people from that 23 region?

24 THE WITNESS: That's a common answer from somebody
25 from that region.

1 BY MR. KATZ: Q. And then finally, defense counsel
2 made a point that he never expressly said to you that he was 3 a citizen of Mexico, but in that discussion of his 4 citizenship, you -- he stated the province he was from and 5 then you clarified; is that correct?

6 A. Correct.

7 Q. Do you recall what you said?

8 A. Not the exact words.

9 Q. Was it something to the effect of I don't understand, so 10 you're a Mexican?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. And he said yes?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. And so that's how you knew that he was a citizen of 15 Mexico --

16 A. Correct.

17 Q. -- by asking a follow-up question?

18 A. That's right.

19 MR. KATZ: I have nothing further, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Ms. Jindal?

21 MS. JINDAL: Thank you.

22 Further Recross-Examination

23 BY MS. JINDAL: Q. Just -- I just want to make 24 sure that the record is really accurate with regards to this 25 question and answer because I think it's an important one.

1 You asked him are you a Mexican -- "Are you Mexican," rather,
2 and his response was "Yes, Mixteco," right?

3 A. Like I said, "Yes, Mixteco" -- we all heard it -- yes,
4 Mixtec, Mixteco -- I heard "Yes, Mix" -- and then --

5 THE COURT: Something other than yes, Mexican,
6 right --

7 THE WITNESS: Yes.

8 THE COURT: -- a reference to Mixtec or Mixteco?
9 Okay.

10 BY MS. JINDAL: Q. And the reason why you asked
11 this question about whether someone is afraid to return to 12 Mexico isn't to find out why they're coming to the United 13 States, it's to evaluate whether or not there's a potential
14 asylum claim, right?

15 A. That is correct.

16 Q. So Mr. Herrera-Hernandez responded and said something
17 about his wife and children, right?

18 A. Correct.

19 Q. And you didn't follow up with him to inquire what exactly
20 he meant by that response?

21 A. I did not.

22 Q. You didn't follow up with him to see if he actually had 23 reasons to be afraid to return to Mexico?

24 A. That is correct.

25 MS. JINDAL: No further questions.

1           THE COURT: All right. Thank you. You may stand
2 down. Any other evidence, Mr. Katz?

3           MR. KATZ: Not at this time, your Honor.

4           THE COURT: Ms. Jindal, any affirmative evidence?

5           MS. JINDAL: No, your Honor.

6           THE COURT: Do you intend to call the defendant?

7           MS. JINDAL: I do not, your Honor.

8           MR. KATZ: Your Honor, I'd move to strike the 9 defendant's declaration.

10          THE COURT: Well, I'm not going to strike it.
11 Look, there's a question of fact here, and the question of 12 fact has to do with the defendant's understanding of the 13 Mexican language. He has made statements, but he's, you 14 know, not going to take the stand and answer even though we 15 have a Mixteco interpreter here; that impairs my ability to 16 judge his credibility because some of his statements are,
17 frankly, at odds with other evidence that I've heard. But,
18 you know, I'll leave that to Ms. Jindal. She can call him or 19 not call him, understanding that, you know, that's a normal
20 consequence; the inability to judge credibility, as I've been 21 able to do with the two agents, impairs the fact-finding 22 process a little bit, but I can get through that.

23          MS. JINDAL: Your Honor, yes, at this time I would 24 not want to call Mr. Herrera-Hernandez because I don't think 25 that that's --

1 THE COURT: Okay.

2 MS. JINDAL: -- necessary to --

3 THE COURT: All right. Any affirmative evidence
4 then?

5 MS. JINDAL: No, your Honor.

6 THE COURT: The matter is submitted?

7 MR. KATZ: Yes, your Honor.

8 MS. JINDAL: The matter is submitted. I would like 9 a few minutes of argument on the --

10 THE COURT: Sure. Go ahead.

11 MS. JINDAL: Thank you.

12 THE COURT: You've relied -- let me ask you this,
13 Ms. Jindal. You've relied in large part on Raya-Vaca?

14 MS. JINDAL: Correct.

15 THE COURT: I'm looking at page 1201. The obvious
16 distinction between that case and this one is that the 17 government did not contest the due process violation in 18 Raya-Vaca. In other words, the district court assumed that 19 Raya-Vaca's due process rights were violated, you know, based 20 on a lack of understanding of the questions put to him, and 21 here that's very much at issue; do you concede that? I'll 22 read to you from page 1201. "Given the government's failure
23 to argue that no due process violation occurred, the district
24 court assumed that Raya-Vaca's due process rights were 25 violated in the course of his 2011 expedited removal

1 proceedings and looked to whether an immigration official
2 would plausibly have exercised its discretion to grant
3 Raya-Vaca relief in the form of withdrawal of his application
4 for admission." So it appears to me this case really turned 5 on the district court's determination that it was not
6 plausible rather than a factual question of whether it was a
7 due process violation based on lack of understanding of 8 language.

9 MS. JINDAL: So in this case, in our case with 10 Mr. Herrera-Hernandez, the government is taking the position
11 that there was not a due process violation --

12 THE COURT: Right, they're contesting it, and they 13 put on evidence which distinguishes it from that case, which 14 just finds fault with Judge Gonzalez's -- you know,
15 then-Judge Gonzalez's finding that there wasn't plausibility
16 to his claims that he might have avoided deportation --

17 MS. JINDAL: In that --

18 THE COURT: -- and that's decided on a legal basis,
19 not a factual basis.

20 MS. JINDAL: In that case the evidence before the 21 Court was a declaration from the defendant --

22 THE COURT: But not contested.

23 MS. JINDAL: It doesn't appear to be contested.

24 Now, what we have --

25 THE COURT: I mean it's clearly not because --

1 MS. JINDAL: It's clearly not, correct, but what we
2 have here is the government putting forward evidence
3 regarding what happened in 2008 --

4 THE COURT: Right.

5 MS. JINDAL: -- and what happened in 2014. And 6 what I think is fatal to the government's position -- and 7 this is something that I addressed in my reply brief, and 8 it's not something that the government addressed in their 9 response at all -- is that the 2009 removal, the record of 10 sworn statement that corresponds with that doesn't list any 11 language used in the language column. Mr. Herrera-Hernandez
12 submitted in his declaration that he recalls both the English
13 and Spanish languages being spoken to him at that time.
14 Officer Lopez, who just testified, told us the importance of 15 including the language listed -- or the language spoken in 16 that column.

17 At this point the evidence before the Court is that 18 for the 2009 removal, Mr. Herrera-Hernandez was spoken to in 19 both English and Spanish; that's what he has said under oath
20 in his declaration. There's no -- that's what the 21 documents -- the documentation regarding the deportation
22 doesn't indicate otherwise, and there's no -- been no
23 evidence put forth by the government to counter that claim.

24 THE COURT: So -- but why do you focus on that when 25 it appears he also was removed before that and that Agent

1 Lopez has said I spoke to him in Spanish on that occasion and
2 he understood me and I understood him?

3 MS. JINDAL: So your Honor would need to rule on 4 the validity of every deportation that --

5 THE COURT: Why?

6 MS. JINDAL: -- was challenged.

7 THE COURT: Because if I find one that's okay, then
8 the 1326 (d) motion must be denied, right? It's this --

9 MS. JINDAL: That's -- that is true. I would
10 request that your Honor rule on it for purposes of sentencing
11 because, as I mentioned earlier, the enhancement only applies
12 if the 2009 removal order is valid because that's the removal
13 that's reinstated in 2011.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MS. JINDAL: So I think that that is a pivotal or a 16 very important distinction which is --

17 THE COURT: You're saying the combination of the 18 defendant's declaration and the absence of a specification of 19 what language was used in the 2009 paperwork raises a 20 question about whether his due process rights were observed 21 or not?

22 MS. JINDAL: I think it puts it squarely in the 23 exact same fact context of Raya-Vaca where we have a
24 defendant submitting a declaration and no evidence submitted
25 by the government contesting the information in that

1 declaration.

2 THE COURT: I don't know why I would get to that
3 now before -- you know, if the motion is denied and he's
4 found guilty, then I agree with you that if the 2009
5 deportation is what enhances, you know, maybe it has some 6 relevance. I'm not positive that you can use a 1326 (d)
7 motion and collaterally attack the fact of a deportation
8 that's used for sentencing. I mean I know you have that 9 right to contest it with respect to the charge itself and 10 whether he's guilty of this offense, but usually collateral
11 attacks on priors -- we're talking about a criminal prior -- 12 have to be mounted first rather than at the time of the 13 sentencing, right, so --

14 MS. JINDAL: That's not correct, your Honor. The 15 Ninth Circuit in I believe the case is Rodriguez-Ocampo -- 16 says that the only way an enhancement applies is if the 17 actual removal order is valid --

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 MS. JINDAL: -- so --

20 THE COURT: So you're saying you have the right to 21 collaterally attack if it's used for enhancement in 22 sentencing?

23 MS. JINDAL: Correct. And so your Honor is right, 24 we can take this up at sentencing at a later time. It is 25 just an argument that I want to raise because I do think that

1 the Court should rule on the --

2 THE COURT: Is there -- is there -- is it
3 susceptible to proof? Do we know who the agent was in 2009?

4 MS. JINDAL: We do. I mean this has been something
5 that the government's been in possession of since November --
6 well, since 2009 but certainly since his arrest in November
7 of 2014. And with regards to this Spanish issue going to the 8 2008 -- you know, this applies to the 2008 removal -- I think
9 there's some things that came out in the evidentiary hearing
10 that really I think emphasize the fact that 11 Mr. Herrera-Hernandez wasn't understanding what was happening
12 or the language being spoken to him. I think the post-arrest
13 statement -- I've watched many of these as part of my job;
14 I've never seen a post-arrest statement with this much 15 clarification. Agent Barba, who testified, admitted that he 16 was having trouble understanding the questions that were 17 being asked.

18 THE COURT: Did it appear to you that Mr. Herrera
19 was tired during that interview? I mean I watched it very 20 carefully. He kept rubbing his face, which is something I do
21 when I'm really tired --

22 MS. JINDAL: I do --

23 THE COURT: -- and the circumstances are that he 24 was arrested sometime between midnight and 6 a.m., so Lord
25 knows how long he'd been up. I don't know whether he was

1 able to get any sleep in the cell. Maybe he was. Some of 2 the cells, I'm told, have beds, some have just benches. But
3 then, you know, he's hauled into this interview room at eight
4 in the morning, and I have to tell you that as I watched his 5 demeanor, it looked like he was tired to me, among other
6 things.

7 MS. JINDAL: I can shed some light on the rubbing
8 of the face that was happening because that was something
9 that Mr. Herrera-Hernandez did when I first met him as well.
10 He has a condition with his eye --

11 THE COURT: Oh, okay.

12 MS. JINDAL: -- that causes it to twitch, and so
13 even when I first met him, was kind of rubbing his face a 14 lot.

15 THE COURT: Do you know how long he'd been up
16 before the interview?

17 MS. JINDAL: I know that his arrest was -- he was 18 arrested at 2 a.m. I don't know --

19 THE COURT: Okay.

20 MS. JINDAL: -- whether he slept or not between 21 then and 8 a.m. when he was interviewed, but I think that 22 even when someone's tired, the level of clarification and the 23 amount of back-and-forth made it clear that he wasn't 24 following what was being said, number 1. Number 2, he tells 25 the agent that he's from Guerrero, he says Mixteco, and at

1 that point this agent, who's very experienced, didn't stop to 2 say okay, you're clearly not following me, let me try to see
3 if you would prefer to go forward in Mixteco or if a Mixteco
4 interpreter would help you, and --

5 THE COURT: Do you speak Spanish also?

6 MS. JINDAL: I do not, but what I do -- what I can 7 do from having this job for two and a half years is 8 understand a little bit, enough to get through our initial 9 visits with clients. I can't speak it, but I can understand
10 what's happening. And I think what this case boils down to,
11 your Honor, is the level of competency of the language. So
12 the same way that I may be able to, with my limited Spanish
13 abilities, go to a restaurant in Tijuana and be able to order
14 food or request a glass of water, that's not the same as 15 having the Spanish abilities necessary to get through a 16 deportation proceeding. I mean what we have here is very 17 complicated terminology --

18 THE COURT: Right.

19 MS. JINDAL: -- and I mean none of us knew what an 20 expedited removal was before we started this job --

21 THE COURT: The standard of proof at an evidentiary
22 hearing like this is preponderance of the evidence, correct?

23 MS. JINDAL: Correct.

24 THE COURT: So on the issue of whether I find that 25 he had an adequate understanding of Spanish or could speak

1 Spanish, I simply have to make that finding by a
2 preponderance, more likely than not, that he did understand
3 Spanish and wasn't, you know, at a loss because they weren't
4 speaking Mixteco dialect?

5 MS. JINDAL: I believe that's correct, your Honor.

6 THE COURT: I think that's right too. I mean
7 factual findings typically have to be supported by a
8 preponderance-of-evidence standard. I just wondered if it
9 was any higher standard. You know, I might be with you if it
10 was a much higher standard like proof beyond a reasonable 11 doubt because there is some room for doubt based on some of 12 the nonresponsive answers. And I'm not trying to find
13 justifications for it. It did appear to me he was tired;
14 that would be logical if he'd been up all day and then 15 crossed at night, got caught at 2:00 in the morning, brought 16 into a cell. Maybe he slept some, but, you know, not a great 17 opportunity to get a good night's sleep before an interview.
18 You know, I watched him, and as a human being, at times when 19 I've -- you know, I've had to engage in dialog with people
20 when I was very, very tired -- and his mannerisms -- I take 21 your point that he's got a twitching eye, but his mannerisms
22 kind of reminded me of my own when I'm really tired; you're 23 kind of sitting there, your senses are dulled, you know,
24 you're rubbing your face, all things that I do when I'm 25 really tired and someone's trying to engage me, usually my

1 wife. So that's the take I had on it, Ms. Jindal, as I
2 looked at that. Now, you know, I wasn't there, as you say,
3 I'm simply trying to reconstruct this, but that's what my --
4 that's what my senses tell me, that he was -- that at least
5 his fatigue was part of what I was seeing there, apparent
6 fatigue.

7 MS. JINDAL: But I don't think that the level of --
8 even if he was fatigued, I think what is still very clear
9 from this video is, you know, when it comes to even a simple
10 question of "What is your name?" he answers with just his 11 first name --

12 THE COURT: Right.

13 MS. JINDAL: -- requires a follow-up, and he 14 follows up, but then when you get into more complicated
15 issues like how he entered --

16 THE COURT: Right.

17 MS. JINDAL: -- and how he -- you know, why he's 18 afraid to go back to Mexico, we get these answers that really
19 just don't make sense and that are very hard for us to follow
20 and for Agent Barba to follow. And then the --

21 THE COURT: You know, that was certainly my first
22 impression when he said "I entered at the booth" because I
23 thought wait a minute, this isn't a guy that's presenting 24 himself at the booth. But we got clarification on that;
25 there's a marker out in the middle of nowhere that's a

1 tollbooth, and the agent says yeah, they frequently cross
2 there. And she understood his reference to the booth to be
3 that marker, not the port of entry, so that sort of clarified
4 it.

5           The other thing she said that was interesting when 6 she does these interviews commonly is that she'll ask
7 somebody if they're a citizen of Mexico or where they're 8 from, and they'll give the province or the state rather than 9 the country, and she says that's not uncommon either, which 10 is what he did. Now, he had to be prompted several times,
11 and she finally had to say "So you're a Mexican citizen?" I
12 did pick up on that.

13           MS. JINDAL: Even when she explains to him what a 14 citizen is --

15           THE COURT: Right.

16           MS. JINDAL: -- you know, Mexico, Canada, United 17 States. She asks him then about the citizenship of his 18 parents and he --

19           THE COURT: Yeah, we're --

20           MS. JINDAL: -- again says --

21           THE COURT: -- focusing on really what was sort of 22 corroborative evidence of his ability to speak Spanish by 23 talking about the interview she conducted in the fall of 24 2014. Agent Lopez interviewed this fellow in 2008 -- and he 25 impressed me as a conscientious person that doesn't cut

1 corners -- and he testified that in -- on occasions where
2 there's been, to him, where it was apparent that someone
3 wasn't understanding the language he was speaking, whether 4 English or Spanish, that he didn't hesitate to call the 5 interpreter numbers and use an interpreter, and I found
6 nothing in his testimony that was questionable to me; it
7 appeared to me that there was clear communication between him
8 and Mr. Herrera 2008, which is the issue I'm focused on now.

9 MS. JINDAL: And that is the main issue, your 10 Honor, is what happened in 2008 at the expedited removal.
11 Now, Agent Lopez was forthcoming in saying he doesn't 12 remember Mr. Herrera-Hernandez specifically --

13 THE COURT: Of course.

14 MS. JINDAL: -- of course, right? It's been six
15 years, he's seen thousands, I'm sure, of individuals in this 16 similar situation since then. What -- what I think we do --
17 what we can extrapolate from Agent Lopez's testimony is that 18 his testimony is based on review of his record of sworn 19 statement.

20 Now, your Honor has reviewed that record of sworn 21 statement; it was attached to my motion to dismiss. I 22 believe it was also attached to the government's motion to 23 dismiss -- and now we've also seen this video of a 24 conversation between agents and Mr. Herrera-Hernandez. And 25 what I think undermines the credibility of Agent Lopez is

1 what we now have is the fact that these records of sworn
2 statement are only summaries. The agents concede that they
3 do not consist of verbatim back-and-forth dialogs, and we saw
4 how what we watched on the video didn't translate exactly
5 into the record of sworn statement in the --

6 THE COURT: Actually I'm not sure that it is the 7 evidence with respect to the sworn statement in 2008. I
8 asked him, you know, do you look up before you record the 9 statement, do you look at the person when you ask the 10 question, and he said yes, I do, and he said then I record
11 the statement after they give it to me, then I look up again
12 and ask them the next question. So I got the -- I formed the 13 conclusion based on his answers that it was a back-and-forth
14 dialog without any level of lack of understanding.

15 MS. JINDAL: But he did admit that what's on his 16 record of sworn statement is only a summary of what 17 Mr. Herrera-Hernandez says and that it's not --

18 THE COURT: Yeah, but it's --

19 MS. JINDAL: -- a verbatim transcript of what was 20 said.

21 THE COURT: No, it's not a transcript, but I have 22 it here, and, you know, there are answers given. It's not 23 just a summary; indeed, there's specific questions and 24 answers to those questions, so it's more than a summary. I
25 mean I take your point that he's following a form and he's

1 asking questions from the form and then recording the 2 answers, but that's not a summary.

3 MS. JINDAL: But what it doesn't show, your Honor,
4 is the level of clarification and back and forth that could 5 have been or likely was required in order to get to these 6 answers. We saw -- we saw in the video how a simple question
7 "of what country are you a citizen of?" required three 8 clarifications.

9 THE COURT: Right.

10 MS. JINDAL: Then we look at Agent Lopez's record
11 of sworn statement from 2008 and we see that same question of 12 "of what country are you a citizen?" and the answer is 13 "Mexico." Now, it seems highly unlikely that the answer was 14 so straightforward in 2008 when in 2015 -- 2014 it took, you
15 know, four minutes to get to that answer. And so my point is 16 that the record of sworn statement doesn't tell us the whole
17 picture. It doesn't give us a sense --

18 THE COURT: Right. I agree --

19 MS. JINDAL: -- of whether he's actually 20 understanding or not.

21 THE COURT: -- I agree with you that a video would 22 be better because it allows us to look at nonverbal behavior
23 as well as the answers given and whether there's any 24 hesitation in the question and answers, whether answers are 25 responsive initially to the question put; a video is

1 certainly superior to a written report about what happened.

2 MS. JINDAL: And we also see that in the video he
3 says "Mixteco," there's no follow-up about that, and that
4 undermines Agent Lopez's testimony that it's standard
5 practice when another language is referenced --

6 THE COURT: I don't know how it undermines it.
7 It's a different agent conducting the interview, you know,
8 six years later in 2014. He testified based on his custom
9 and habit and what he does. So that another agent doesn't,
10 you know, maybe follow the same practice, I don't think it
11 undermines Agent Lopez at all. He seemed very credible to 12 me.

13 MS. JINDAL: I believe he was also testifying about 14 the practices of the Department of Homeland Security when --

15 THE COURT: Well, I asked him about his habit and 16 custom, and, you know, it's based certainly on training that 17 he's gotten if that's what you mean, but the focus of my 18 questions to him that he answered were, you know, is it your 19 habit and custom to do this, what do you do if you encounter
20 somebody that you perceive is not understanding. So he -- my 21 take on his testimony is he was relating his own experience
22 in doing this, not purporting to tell us what other people
23 do.

24 MS. JINDAL: I would -- I would still stand by my 25 argument that that record of sworn statement doesn't give us

1 the full picture. I think that watching the video is very 2 enlightening in seeing sort of how things got lost in 3 translation between what really happens and how they're
4 documented in the record of sworn statement. I thought Agent
5 Barba's testimony that the mumbling could in fact have been 6 Mixteco, could have actually been a language she just doesn't 7 understand also sheds light on the fact that often
8 individuals could be trying to communicate and it might just 9 be that the agents aren't understanding because both of these 10 agents, including Agent Lopez, testified that they don't 11 speak or understand Mixteco.

12 THE COURT: Okay. Anything else?

13 MS. JINDAL: That's all I have on the due process
14 violation.

15 THE COURT: Okay.

16 MS. JINDAL: I'm happy to address prejudice if the 17 Court would like.

18 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Katz, anything else?

19 MR. KATZ: A few things to respond to that, your 20 Honor. First, we're not in the same spot we're in in 21 Raya-Vaca with regards to the 2009 removal. As I said at the 22 beginning of this hearing, the claim in -- regarding the 2009
23 removal is the exact same claim that's made with respect to 24 the 2008 removal: He didn't speak Spanish. That I believe 25 the evidence has shown should not be credited. The fact that

1 what he claims to have said to the officers on both occasions
2 is verbatim the exact same thing, the same phrase, and
3 somehow that's a practice that he abandoned in the meantime,
4 he didn't do that in 2014 -- we saw he was specifically asked
5 about the language, and he responded -- now, granted, he was 6 only given English and Spanish, but he responded "Spanish."

7 THE COURT: Have you spoken to the agent who talked
8 to him in 2009 or is that person available; do you know?

9 MR. KATZ: I have not spoken to -- so we've got a
10 number of removals. I want to make sure I get it right.

11 THE COURT: Ms. Jindal points out the defect in 12 that one is that there's a blank where it says, you know, in 13 what language did you conduct the interview, unlike 2008
14 where Agent Lopez wrote in "Spanish."

15 MR. KATZ: Right. I understand that --

16 THE COURT: I mean I wouldn't assume that they 17 talked to him in English because he doesn't -- obviously he 18 doesn't speak any English.

19 MR. KATZ: No. I'm taking him at his word he says
20 that it was English and Spanish that he recalls from that, so
21 there was Spanish spoken there.

22 THE COURT: Yeah. So we have his declaration and 23 statement about his proficiency with Spanish --

24 MR. KATZ: Right.

25 THE COURT: -- but I'm -- it's not exactly like

1 Rava-Vaca -- Raya-Vaca because there the government just 2 outright conceded that.

3 MR. KATZ: Right, and we are not doing that with 4 respect to --

5 THE COURT: No, I understand that, but the proof
6 with respect to 2008 is certainly more substantial here than 7 it is with respect to 2009. You know, I can avoid the whole
8 issue by not ruling at this time on the 2009, and if you want
9 to bring in somebody to augment the record on that or, you
10 know, if -- if you don't, then I'll go forward with what I 11 have.

12 MR. KATZ: The second thing, your Honor, turning to 13 this issue of the quality of the record of sworn statement,
14 that they're not verbatim, you know, transcriptions of what 15 took place, that's true, but both agents though testified
16 that they then review what they're putting into that summary
17 with the alien before the alien signs it -- that's apparently 18 on the face of the document -- that both agents confirmed
19 that that's their practice. And so this idea that something 20 so monumental got lost in the shuffle is -- you know, the 21 Court can discount that by noting that the defendant
22 initialed each page and reviewed it and signed it after that 23 had taken place, essentially signed off on that summary.
24 It's not a transcription, it's not intended to be a
25 transcription.

1           The idea -- I think there's also an assumption here
2 from Ms. Jindal that the 2014 interview that we are fortunate
3 we do have the video of, it couldn't have gone -- it's not 4 possible that the 2008 interview went smoother, that in the 5 2008 interview the Spanish was better. But I'm not sure that 6 that's the case; in fact, I would argue the opposite is true.
7 You know, your Honor, you know my position with respect to 8 the defendant's declaration, but even taking him at his word,
9 2008 was when he was presumably at the peak of his Spanish
10 abilities; that's when he concluded the learning of the 11 Spanish that he knows. Seven years later, six years later
12 when he was removed in 2014, presumably that has degraded
13 some, if anything. He says when he learned his Spanish, and 14 it was --

15           INTERPRETER MR. NOVOA: Can I have a moment, your 16 Honor? The Mixteco interpreter needs to take some water.

17           THE COURT: Sure.

18           (Brief pause in the proceedings.)

19           INTERPRETER MR. NOVOA: Thank you.

20           THE COURT: Okay.

21           MR. KATZ: And finally, your Honor, with respect to 22 the idea that merely referencing the idea that someone is 23 Mixtec was that Agent Lopez testified that that would be 24 enough for him to call an interpreter. That's simply not the 25 case. What Officer Lopez testified to was that if the

1 defendant had asked for -- said he didn't understand Spanish
2 and asked for a Mixteco interpreter or it was clear that he 3 was not understanding the questions in the course of the 4 interview, he would have called for an interpreter.

5           The defendant here did neither of those things. He
6 did not ask for a Mixtec interpreter; he just said I'm 7 Mixtec. At the time he was conversing in Spanish, and we 8 have testimony from Agent Barba that -- as to why she didn't 9 call an interpreter, and it follows that same line of 10 reasoning: I was talking to him in Spanish, we were getting 11 the answers that we needed to get.

12           I think the standard as far as the language here is 13 important. The standard isn't that no clarification is 14 necessary, that no follow-up questions are required. The 15 standard from 8 CFR 2335 (3), which sets the procedure for 16 expedited removals, says that an interpreter is required if 17 necessary to communicate with the alien. Even in 2014, which 18 logic dictates was probably the worst of the two interviews
19 when it comes to the communication barriers, if any, Agent
20 Barba was able to communicate with the alien; his Spanish met
21 that level. And so from -- in terms of the CFR with respect
22 to expedited removals, that Spanish level is met. Even 23 looking at what's presumably the higher standard, the level
24 of translation necessary in the context of formal immigration
25 proceedings with an immigration judge, in Asican v. Holder,

1 which we cited in our response, the Court held that even a
2 faulty -- an admittedly faulty translation didn't violate due
3 process rights where the alien -- and I'm quoting here --
4 understood and answered the vast majority of the questions
5 and never stated that he could not understand or consistently
6 gave answers completely unrelated to the questions. The 7 defendant here --

8 THE COURT: All right.

9 MR. KATZ: -- never stated that he couldn't 10 understand; he understood and answered the vast majority of 11 the questions, and he didn't give answers completely
12 unrelated. Some amount of clarification was required, some 13 amount of going over points was required, but eventually they 14 got there, and so the level of Spanish necessary, he had that 15 level of understanding, could comprehend, and so consistent 16 with what we saw in 2014, he was able to go forward in that.

17 And so I think it's also relevant, your Honor, that 18 we saw him respond to a few commands in Spanish and to do so
19 without having to be, you know, called over multiple times.
20 Agent Barba on the video says "Come closer," and he 21 immediately comes closer. It's clear that he understood
22 that. Agent Barba says "I need your initials here and your 23 signature here." The response that we see from Exhibit 15 is 24 that he -- she gets initials in one spot and a signature in 25 another. "Initials" is an awfully specific word, your Honor.

1 "Initials" is something that, you know, is not like ordering
2 a glass of water in a restaurant in Tijuana. Initialing a
3 document requires a higher level of Spanish, and, you know,
4 I'm not saying that -- I think that gives us a good clue,
5 your Honor, as far as the level of Spanish.

6 THE COURT: Well, of course the space on the form
7 is smaller for his initials than it is for signature too,
8 right?

9 MR. KATZ: It is.

10 MS. JINDAL: And I'm not sure what the word for 11 "initials" is in Mixteco, so it could be similar.

12 THE COURT: All right. I have both parties'
13 position. Thank you. I appreciate your arguments.

14 MR. KATZ: And, your Honor, I won't parrot what we 15 have, but it's also our position that you don't need to 16 necessarily even -- even if with this violation there's no
17 prejudice here, and I don't think either of us has covered
18 the prejudice argument; we obviously disagree there.

19 THE COURT: All right. All right. Thank you both.
20 The Court finds as follows. First, as I mentioned to Ms.
21 Jindal, I do not find that this case is controlled by 22 Raya-Vaca for the obvious reason that we have a factual
23 dispute here; that was not the case in Raya-Vaca. There, as 24 I've quoted from page 1201, the government conceded a due
25 process violation. Here they do not concede it. In fact,

1 they contend no due process violation took place because
2 there was adequate understanding on the part of the defendant
3 as to his rights and to what was being said to him. So the 4 factual question is -- has to do with the defendant's mastery
5 of the Spanish language -- not the Mixteco dialect but the 6 Spanish language proper.

7           The defendant has filed a declaration where he 8 says, as I mentioned before, that he speaks Mixteco, it's the 9 only language that he completely understands and speaks
10 fluently. He goes on to say that he understands and speaks
11 very little Spanish, the little Spanish he knows is what he's 12 picked up from hearing others speak it while working in the 13 tomato fields in Mexico from 2005 to 2008.

14           The Court has reason to question his credibility on 15 those statements. They're sweeping statements that really
16 don't match my observations from the video of 2014. Let me
17 be clear about this. It may be that he doesn't have complete
18 mastery of the Spanish language, but it's clearly not the 19 case that he understands and speaks very little Spanish. One 20 watching the interview notes that the questions were put to 21 him in a very fast-paced fashion. I had trouble sometimes,
22 even though it was in Spanish, following it and even though
23 there were subtitles underneath it because the agent was 24 speaking so fast. But for the most part, there was no lack 25 of understanding apparent to me. The defendant gave

1 responsive responses to the questions put to him. Sometimes
2 a question, I acknowledge, had to be re-put to him, but the
3 answers for the most part were very responsive. The timing
4 and sequence of the questions and the answers convinced me
5 that there's no lack of understanding or confusion on his 6 part. There may have been times, as I acknowledge, that they
7 had to go back and clarify. Now, whether that is owing to a
8 language barrier or, you know, just generally the awkwardness
9 of a particular question put to somebody in the Spanish
10 language I can't be sure of. The agent who interviewed the 11 defendant in 2014 said it is common, or at least not 12 uncommon, that when she asks "Of what country are you a 13 citizen?" a person will frequently respond by telling her the 14 province or the state where they're from and she has to 15 follow up on that. So I don't attribute the fact that he
16 didn't answer I'm a Mexican citizen necessarily to a language
17 barrier; sounds like it's a fairly common thing that comes up
18 with people because maybe the -- maybe the translation is 19 different somehow or a little more awkward when it's put in 20 Spanish than in English. If somebody asked me of what 21 country I'm a citizen, I'd say I'm a citizen of the United 22 States; I wouldn't say California or San Diego. But that's 23 the way it works in English apparently. According to the 24 testimony of the agent, who interviews many people, it's 25 different in the Spanish language.

1           He was twice asked during the 2014 interview to
2 come sign things. It appeared to me that he understood in 3 that he immediately stood up, that he came over and signed 4 those things. And, again, no confusion, no lack of 5 understanding.

6           Now, again, the standard of proof here is 7 important. If I were called upon to say, you know, beyond a
8 reasonable doubt? Perhaps not, perhaps not. I think Ms.
9 Jindal makes some good points, but that's not the standard
10 here; the standard is more likely than not did he understand
11 the Spanish language and did he understand the essential
12 things that were being said to him. Again, the focus not on 13 2014 as much as it is on 2008. The 2014 testimony just is 14 kind of confirmation that he understands the Spanish language
15 better than he lets on in his declaration. This declaration
16 is phrased in the here and now. I mean it appears he's 17 saying even today I don't understand the Spanish language,
18 and I find that not to be true.

19           Now, I've not had the opportunity obviously to 20 evaluate the defendant's credibility. I just see, you know,
21 as I said, rather sweeping statements on a declaration. He's 22 not submitted to cross-examination, and the government didn't 23 call him, which I think you had a right to do, Mr. Katz, if 24 you wanted to; he's got Simmons protection here, so you could 25 have called him. But the point is I didn't have an

1 opportunity to evaluate his credibility.

2 I did have an opportunity to evaluate of
3 credibility of Officer Lopez, who interfaced and communicated
4 with the defendant in 2008. Officer Lopez struck me as 5 completely by the book, completely credible and professional.
6 He struck me as someone who doesn't cut corners. That's what 7 he testified to; I asked him specifically. He appeared to 8 me, as I watched him testify as I put questions to him
9 directly, to be very credible, and I believe what he says
10 that had there been in his mind any lack of understanding in 11 2008 when he spoke with the defendant, he would have stopped
12 the interview at that point, called the number, which he says
13 he's done on maybe 50 other occasions, and gotten a Mixteco
14 interpreter to help out. There wasn't a lack of 15 understanding. That sort of dovetails with what I saw in the 16 video six years later. Yeah, there's certain points where 17 things had to be pointed out, but as the government points
18 out, the standard here -- and this case is persuasive while 19 not binding because it's a nonpublished case -- but the Ninth
20 Circuit has said in Asican v. Holder -- A-s-i-c-a-n v.
21 Holder -- that it's enough that the defendant understood and 22 answered the vast majority of questions, never stated that he
23 could not understand, or consistently gave answers completely
24 unrelated to the questions. That characterizes at least the 25 interview that I saw here. He never said I lack

1 understanding. His answers for the most part were
2 responsive. Some clarification was needed on others. But if
3 the question is, you know, did he understand Spanish, did he
4 understands the gist of what was being put to him, the answer
5 from my perspective, listening to the witnesses, is clearly
6 yes. And you're right, we don't have a -- we don't have a
7 video of Agent Lopez's interview with him, but we have the 8 next best thing, which is in-person testimony from a fellow
9 that's done this many, many times, testified as to his custom
10 and habit, and whom the Court finds to be credible, having 11 evaluated his credibility. I mean if it comes down to a 12 credibility contest between Agent Lopez's version and the 13 defendant's version in writing, then I credit Agent Lopez.
14 Like I said, he didn't hesitate in answering, I was able to 15 watch him to observe his demeanor. I find him to be 16 credible, and I credit his account over that of the defendant
17 regarding the defendant's proficiency in the Spanish
18 language.

19           So all that to say I don't believe the defendant's
20 declaration that he doesn't adequately understand Spanish
21 such that the answers that he gave to Agent Lopez were 22 unknowing, confused, and that he was just complying with what 23 he was told to do; rather, I credit the agent's account that
24 he would ask the defendant a question, get an answer, record
25 the answer, look at the defendant, get another question; that

1 there was no apparent confusion in 2008 preceding the 2 defendant's removal at that time; had there been, he would
3 have taken additional steps. And accordingly, I don't find
4 any due process violation with respect to the 2008 expedited
5 removal. I don't need to go any further than that at this 6 point because the motion is to dismiss for lack of an
7 element; a single deportation would satisfy the element.

8           Ms. Jindal -- I want to look back at the case that 9 she cited with respect to whether collateral attacks on 10 priors can be mounted at a sentencing. She says yes, they 11 can. So I'll look at that. And if the government wants, 12 I'll give you an opportunity to put on more evidence than 13 that. I don't need to go much further.

14           There's something to what Mr. Katz says, which is 15 if he's proficient in the Spanish language in 2008, he's 16 probably also proficient in 2009. Yeah, it's troublesome
17 that the blank is not filled in there as to what language, 18 but look, it would be a real stretch to say oh, they must 19 have spoken to him in English. I mean either they spoke to 20 him in Spanish or Mixteco. I don't think they spoke to him
21 in Mixteco because that would probably be noted, so I'm going 22 to assume -- common-sense assumption is he was -- they 23 discussed it with him in Spanish notwithstanding what he 24 says.

25           I mean I also find -- I have to tell you I also

1 find some reason to question his recollection of these
2 interviews, the defendant's. At another point in his 3 declaration, paragraph 31, he says the agent didn't read the 4 paperwork to me, if he did read the paperwork it was not in a
5 language I understood. Well, either he did or he didn't read
6 the paperwork to him. And he says if he did -- and I don't
7 know. I mean he was there, I wasn't, but he's now
8 backtracking. I mean it's an affirmative statement to say he 9 didn't read the paperwork to me. One would know, regardless
10 of what language, if somebody's reading something to him from 11 paperwork, and he makes the assertive statement to begin with 12 at 31 that no paperwork was read to him, and then he backs
13 away from that saying "if he did read the paperwork." And I
14 think -- to me that goes to his credibility too. It's not 15 one of these things; either he read the paper or he didn't.
16 If you don't understand what's being read to you, that's one
17 thing, but he's not saying that; he's saying -- he's making
18 an assertive statement that the person didn't read paperwork
19 to him. One would know that by watching a person looking 20 down and reading something if he didn't understand the 21 language.

22           So suffice it to say I find that there is plenty of 23 reason to question the defendant's credibility on this
24 question of his understanding of the Spanish language. I
25 think he understands the Spanish language, I do. I don't

1 doubt that his first language is Mixteco, but I think he's
2 been around enough that he understand the Spanish language.
3 That was evident to me in the video, and, as I said, I accept
4 what I find to be the credible testimony of Agent Lopez
5 respecting the interaction in 2008 between him and the 6 defendant. Accordingly, Court finds that there's no due
7 process violation here respecting the 2008 expedited removal.
8 The motion is denied.

9           Now, the next issue is the stipulated facts trial.
10 The Court has reviewed the stipulated facts. Is there any 11 argument on this or is that matter submitted?

12           MS. JINDAL: Your Honor, I need to take another
13 look at it again because I'm not sure if the stipulated facts
14 contemplated a ruling on the 2009 expedited removal. I don't 15 think --

16           THE COURT: Well, they might, but I don't even have 17 to find that. It mentions both the 2008 and the 2009
18 deportation. Look at page 2, paragraph 2: The A file
19 custodian, part A and B. A is the A number. B talks about 20 the 2008 deportation. Then paragraph 2(c) talks about 2009.
21 But I don't -- you know, it's frequently the case,
22 Ms. Jindal, that facts are presented during course of a trial
23 that aren't really necessary to the outcome, they're just 24 additional stuff. I don't need to rely on that.

25           MS. JINDAL: And looking at it again, it's fine

1 because I just wanted to ensure I didn't accede -- that there
2 was no concession regarding the validity of the 2009 --

3 THE COURT: Right. There's not. You agree with 4 that, don't you, right, Mr. Katz?

5 MR. KATZ: I agree, that this morning dealt --

6 THE COURT: It's just the fact of the deportation
7 mentioned here.

8 MR. KATZ: Yes, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: So if there's nothing more, the Court's 10 prepared to rule on that.

11 MS. JINDAL: Yes, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: The Court finds, accepting the facts
13 that have been stipulated to as true, that on November 15,
14 2014 at 2 a.m., the defendant was encountered by a Border
15 Patrol agent inside the United States. He was trying to hide
16 in some brush. They were about five miles east of the Otay
17 Mesa port of entry, and they were significantly within the 18 United States, eight miles north of the border at that point.
19 Defendant was placed under arrest at the time.

20 The records respecting the defendant reveal that he 21 has been in the United States before; he had an assigned A 22 number. As the motion kind of previewed, the defendant has 23 been deported from the United States. One of those 24 deportations occurred in 2008. It was an expedited removal.
25 The expedited removal is documented in Government's Exhibit

1 1. I'm assuming you're moving for admission of all of the 2 government's exhibits.

3 MR. KATZ: All the exhibits attached to the 4 stipulation, yes, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: And there's no objection to those I
6 assume.

7 MS. JINDAL: No.

8 THE COURT: So the Court admits those. And I do
9 note it documents the defendant's removal from the United 10 States in 2008.

11 (Exhibit Nos. 13, 14, 15 admitted.)

12 THE COURT: I don't think I need to make findings
13 with respect to the other. It's conceded here that he's been 14 removed on other occasions. What's not conceded is whether 15 those were valid, legal removals, so I don't need to make 16 findings, not on those, and I don't at this time.

17 The A file is linked to the defendant through a
18 comparison of his fingerprints at booking with fingerprints
19 in the file. Qualified expert Mr. Beers, former FBI agent
20 and FBI fingerprint examiner, but you refer to him as a
21 fingerprint expert -- I assume there's no dispute about 22 Mr. Beers' expertise to compare fingerprints, Ms. Jindal.

23 MS. JINDAL: No, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: That's why they use the term
25 "fingerprint expert" here.

1 MS. JINDAL: Correct.

2 THE COURT: Okay. So the Court finds that there's 3 a match between the defendant's prints that were taken in 4 this case and the A file such that the 2008 deportation can 5 be attributed to him. It's conceded that at the time of his 6 entry in 2014, the defendant was not a citizen of the United 7 States, in fact he was a citizen of Mexico, and that he 8 voluntarily reentered the United States, he knew he was 9 entering at the time.

10 Now, there's -- is there anything -- Mr. Katz, is 11 there anything in here about how he had no permission as of 12 that date?

13 MR. KATZ: Your Honor, the A file custodian would 14 testify that there's no evidence that he had applied.

15 THE COURT: Is that -- is that in here? Have I 16 just missed that?

17 MR. KATZ: I believe it's paragraph --

18 THE COURT: Oh, yes. Here it is. I see it.

19 MR. KATZ: -- (f)(2).

20 THE COURT: Yeah, (f)(2). And then finally, that 21 the defendant did not have any legal right to be in the 22 United States, he hadn't been given permission by the 23 Attorney General or any designee. So those things match the 24 elements of 1326 violation with which the defendant is 25 charged. He's actually charged with being found in; is that

1 correct?

2 MR. KATZ: Yes, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: So I do find that he was found in the 4 United States, that he was found in the United States at a
5 time after he had been previously deported from the United 6 States, that as of the date of the charge here in November --
7 was it November 14 --

8 MR. KATZ: November 15, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: -- November 15, that he had no
10 permission given to him by the United States. So I conclude
11 that he illegally reentered the United States, was found
12 here, after being deported, in the United States. In short,
13 the stipulated facts tracked the elements of the statute and 14 prove to my satisfaction and without contest -- because they 15 are stipulated facts -- beyond a reasonable doubt that the 16 defendant's guilty of reentering the United States and being 17 found in the United States on November 15, 2014. I do find 18 him guilty.

19 Now, does he have -- other than the conviction in 20 front of me for which he was placed on probation, he has no
21 criminal record, right?

22 MS. JINDAL: Correct.

23 THE COURT: But there was some evidence that he'd 24 been in the United States or been caught a gazillion times or 25 a bunch of times? How many times?

1 MS. JINDAL: Not a gazillion. I believe it is --

2 THE COURT: I got the impression he's been kind of
3 a pest; he keeps coming back and we keep saying don't come
4 back, but otherwise he's not a bad guy.

5 MS. JINDAL: I think it's 12 times.

6 THE COURT: Okay.

7 MS. JINDAL: Eleven or 12.

8 THE COURT: So I don't know that we need a
9 probation report unless either side requests it. I would 10 find here, just previewing guidelines, that the defendant has 11 accepted responsibility. A stipulated-facts trial is -- 12 really saves a lot of resources, and, you know, other than 13 making a legal challenge, he hasn't made a factual contest,
14 so I'd be prepared to give them that. Are you prepared to 15 offer the additional point for acceptance here? Two points I
16 can give him, the third point comes on your motion, but I
17 think he deserves it.

18 MR. KATZ: I don't think he gets to 16, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Oh, okay. So it would be maximum of 20 two --

21 MR. KATZ: I don't think so. They're --

22 THE COURT: All right. So we have a question about 23 whether plus-four enhancement applies, and that turns on the 24 2009 deportation I guess. If you want to rest on the 25 evidence you've presented, I can make a finding on that. If

1 you want to call somebody else to explain the gap and 2 testify, you know, whether -- first of all, whether he
3 remembers Mr. Herrera, and second, you know, whether that gap
4 means he spoke Nigerian rather than Spanish to him, I can 5 take evidence on that.

6 MR. KATZ: Your Honor, I think the evidence we've 7 submitted with some brief additional argument from me
8 regarding the prejudice issue because I don't think the Court
9 needs to get to additional evidence.

10 THE COURT: All right. We can leave that for 11 sentencing if you want; it's a sentencing matter.

12 MR. KATZ: I'll leave it for sentencing, your 13 Honor.

14 THE COURT: How much time did he do last time, Ms.
15 Jindal?

16 MS. JINDAL: I think he spent a little over 70 days
17 in custody.

18 THE COURT: Seventy days?

19 MS. JINDAL: Seventy, yeah.

20 THE COURT: And he stayed out for a period of time
21 or are any of the 12 in between when I last sentenced him and 22 put him on probation and he promised me he wasn't going to 23 come back anymore?

24 MS. JINDAL: Your Honor --

25 THE COURT: He did promise me that. How long did

1 he stay out after making that promise to me?

2 MS. JINDAL: Three and a half years.

3 THE COURT: Okay.

4 MS. JINDAL: He stayed out from when you deported
5 him until --

6 THE COURT: How long has he been in custody now?

7 MS. JINDAL: Over three months, since November.

8 THE COURT: Sixty days. Or 90 days?

9 MS. JINDAL: Ninety days.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Well --

11 MS. JINDAL: Actually -- sorry -- over four months.
12 I apologize.

13 THE COURT: So 120 days?

14 MS. JINDAL: Over 120 days.

15 THE COURT: And he did 70 days before?

16 MS. JINDAL: He did 70 days before and stayed out
17 for three and a half years.

18 THE COURT: All right. And no other criminal 19 record?

20 MS. JINDAL: No.

21 THE COURT: And on these apprehensions, when did
22 they occur?

23 MS. JINDAL: The apprehensions occurred primarily 24 in 2008 and -- so it looks like there are about six in 2008, 25 six or seven, two in 2009, five in 2011, and then he gets

1 convicted of 1326. As your Honor knows, had he been given a
2 sentence of time served and three years of supervised
3 release, he wouldn't have been on supervised release anymore
4 and --

5 THE COURT: He didn't get that sentence though.

6 MS. JINDAL: He didn't that sentence, he got a
7 probationary sentence, so he's only in criminal history
8 category II currently.

9 THE COURT: Yeah.

10 MS. JINDAL: And honestly I was going to ask the 11 Court if we could just go forward with sentencing today
12 because we have the Mixteco interpreter here and I know it's 13 costly to the Court because -- to have her come out, and 14 rather than having this pushed off to a separate date, I
15 thought maybe we'd --

16 THE COURT: No, I understand that, but look, he's 17 been in now you say about 120 days?

18 MS. JINDAL: Over 120 days.

19 THE COURT: And he did 70 the time before, right?

20 MS. JINDAL: Correct.

21 THE COURT: Are you satisfied with that, Mr. Katz,
22 at this point? This fellow's not public enemy number 1; he's 23 very different I think from most of the 1326 defendants I
24 see, and I'm not going to throw the book at him. I'm 25 disappointed that he didn't keep his word to me and he came

1 back; on the other hand, he stayed out for -- three years you
2 say?

3 MS. JINDAL: Three and a half years.

4 THE COURT: Three and a half years. So he's got a
5 big family, he's got seven kids and a wife down there. I'm 6 assuming that, you know, aside from all these deportations,
7 he comes close to being like an economic migrant rather than 8 one of the crooks that we usually see, right, not been to 9 state prison or any of that stuff. So he's very different in 10 kind and --

11 MR. KATZ: Yes, your Honor. The only thing I'd add
12 to that is, you know, we do have evidence that he has served
13 as a foot guide in the past.

14 THE COURT: Yeah, but was that -- that was before
15 the last time?

16 MR. KATZ: That was before the last time, yes.

17 THE COURT: Yeah. Was there solid evidence of 18 that? Because it doesn't -- if he'd been guiding people and 19 that was the explanation for all the apprehensions, then I
20 probably wouldn't have given him 70 days.

21 MR. KATZ: We have two reports that I've seen, your 22 Honor, in the A file that indicates --

23 THE COURT: But here he says he's going to San 24 Maria, and apparently he's going up there to work this time
25 and --

1           MR. KATZ: Yeah. I'm not suggesting that he was
2 foot guiding in this instance, your Honor. It's just --

3           THE COURT: How many people were with him this
4 time?

5           MR. KATZ: I'm sorry?

6           THE COURT: How many others were with him?

7           MR. KATZ: He was caught specifically with one
8 other person. The agent believed, in my discussion with 9 Agent Clare, the apprehending agent, that there were more
10 than that and they sort of broke up in that time between --

11          THE COURT: But there's no allegation that he was 12 guiding anybody? He's just a fellow --

13          MR. KATZ: No, your Honor.

14          THE COURT: -- traveler this time?

15          MR. KATZ: I bring it up only with the response to 16 was he exclusively an economic migrant each time.

17          THE COURT: Yeah. Well, I'm going to treat him as 18 essentially an economic migrant this time. And as I say, I'm 19 disappointed because he promised me he wasn't going to come
20 back anymore and I let him go, you know, with very little 21 punishment last time and here he's back again within the 22 period of time that, you know, it's still actionable to find
23 a violation. He faces a probation violation and sentencing
24 on a new charge, right?

25          MS. JINDAL: Correct.

1           THE COURT: You agree the Court can take judicial
2 notice of its finding of guilt on this case and that if it
3 does that, it necessarily means that he's in violation of 4 probation? I set two conditions, that he not come back and 5 he not violate United States law. It appears to me that he's 6 done both. Do you agree with that, at least with that 7 finding; you don't contest it?

8           MS. JINDAL: Yes, your Honor. He will -- he's 9 willing to admit that violation.

10          THE COURT: All right. So I find, taking judicial 11 notice of the finding that I just made on the new case, that 12 he's in violation of probation. You know, Ms. Jindal, I
13 appreciate that the Mixteco interpreter's here, but he's 14 dealing with two matters, and like I said, I'm not going to 15 throw the book at him, but maybe some further demonstration
16 of consequences is necessary so he stays out, you know,
17 longer, doesn't come back anymore unless he has permission to 18 come back. I'm not sure 120 days suffices for, you know, 19 both things that are at issue here; one's punishing him for 20 the new offense and other objectives, and the second instance
21 addressing the breach of trust, which has a year and a half
22 left on it, you know.

23          MS. JINDAL: And I wasn't implying that 120 days
24 was what I would be requesting the Court to do. What I was 25 suggesting was just for efficiency and cost efficiency

1 purposes, it might be easier to --

2 THE COURT: I'd be inclined to -- I'd be inclined
3 to put him on probation again on this case. You're right, I
4 mean I think the point you make underscores the wisdom of 5 putting somebody on five years' probation because you're 6 right, he'd be ollie ollie oxen free if it had been no
7 supervised release or just three years. But he can't come
8 back here until he has permission. And while, you know, a 9 consequence is attached to that for up to five years based on 10 the old case, the point is that he shouldn't come back and 11 violate the law irrespective of whether the old case is still 12 alive or not because then look what happens, they charge him
13 with a new case.

14 So -- but I'm -- you know, I'm sympathetic to his 15 circumstances, and I do see huge differences between him and 16 most of the defendants convicted of these offenses. Maybe 17 the best thing would be to come back for sentencing. He was 18 arrested in November?

19 MS. JINDAL: He was arrested in November, so it's 20 been a little over four months. And I agree that -- and I
21 think Mr. Herrera-Hernandez would agree to waive presentence
22 report and get the earliest possible sentencing date so --

23 THE COURT: Have you talked to him about that?

24 MS. JINDAL: I have talked to him, and he is in 25 agreement with wanting to get his sentence as early as

1 possible.

2 THE COURT: What if he were to come back June 1st?
3 That's a Monday. I can probably deal with both cases on 4 June 1st.

5 MS. JINDAL: The reason why I'd ask for a date
6 earlier than that, March 24, is, first, there's no
7 presentence report since we -- I think that -- I know
8 Mr. Herrera-Hernandez well enough to be able to provide the 9 Court via sentencing memo or oral allocution a lot of 10 information about his history and circumstances. At this
11 point I don't know if he would appeal the denial of the 1326
12 (d) motion, I don't know if he would appeal the sentence.
13 Your Honor's indicated that you might give him probation; if 14 that's the case, there may not be an appeal.

15 THE COURT: No, I can't bargain with him over that.
16 In the past when I've tried to do that, Maxwell's silver
17 hammer came down on my head, so --

18 MS. JINDAL: Well, the reason why I bring up the 19 date of sentencing though is that his guidelines are not 20 high. On the probation case I think he's -- he's in category
21 I. He had no convictions at the time in 2011. His
22 guidelines are probably four to ten months. On this new 1326
23 case, his guidelines are eight to 14 months. So the reason
24 why I bring this up is should he choose to pursue his right
25 to appeal --

1 THE COURT: Right.

2 MS. JINDAL: -- we're in expedited appeal territory
3 because he's not going to be looking at years in custody like
4 a lot of -- a lot of clients who end up going through this 5 level of litigation.

6 THE COURT: What if I were just to sentence him
7 right now on the supervised -- excuse me -- on the probation
8 violation, and, you know, depending on what that sentence is,
9 having him come back at the expiration of that? I can tell
10 you this. As you know from being in front of me, I routinely
11 take into consideration the fact that a guy's facing a double
12 whammy, and I don't treat those things as entirely separate,
13 particularly when they grow out of the same nucleus of facts;
14 the probation violation is because he committed a new 15 offense. So I think it's fair and it's in his interest to 16 impose sentences that account for each other and even though 17 the objectives under 3553 are different in both instances, at 18 least somewhat different. So I could do that today, and we 19 could set sentencing, you know, at -- near the end of the 20 expiration of the supervised -- the probation violation
21 sentence. You say it's four to ten months, right?

22 MS. JINDAL: It's four to ten months.

23 THE COURT: So we're close to the low end on that.
24 I'm not necessarily on the low end on the breach of trust --

25 MS. JINDAL: I understand.

1           THE COURT:  -- I'm not at the high end either, but,
2 you know, I'm thinking that a sentence that, you know, takes
3 him out to June 1st on the probation violation, and then he 4 can come back on that particular day and be sentenced also on 5 the new case.  No harm, no foul because he's doing time
6 anyway.

7           MS. JINDAL:  That's true, your Honor.  And if
8 that's where the Court is --

9           THE COURT:  If you're agreeable to that, then --

10          MS. JINDAL:  My hesitation again was just his right
11 to appeal because if he ends up --

12          THE COURT:  Well, you can --

13          MS. JINDAL:  -- wanting to pursue it, he's going to 14 be out of time if he can only file it in June when his 15 custody started in --

16          THE COURT:  Look, in the ordinary course we'd have 17 11 weeks anyway, right, and --

18          MS. JINDAL:  That's true.

19          THE COURT:  -- I'm not talking about going out that 20 far now because here we are toward the end of March, April,
21 May, 1st of June, that's 60 days.

22          MS. JINDAL:  We're fine with that.

23          THE COURT:  Okay.

24          MS. JINDAL:  So we can proceed on the OSC right
25 now.

1           THE COURT: Okay. So I'm happy to hear from you.
2 The guideline range is four to ten months. And I'll also
3 hear from Mr. Herrera before I determine --

4           MS. JINDAL: Sure. I'm going to ask him to just 5 come stand up next to me.

6           THE COURT: Okay.

7           MS. JINDAL: Well, your Honor has a lot of 8 information about Mr. Herrera-Hernandez through the 9 litigation of the deportation motion.

10          THE COURT: You want to adjust the mic a little bit
11 for the interpreter.

12          MS. JINDAL: What I can -- what I can shed -- the 13 light that I can shed to the Court about
14 Mr. Herrera-Hernandez aside from what we've just discussed
15 the last couple of hours is that he's an incredibly 16 respectful man. He has a very limited education; he's only 17 gone to school for less than a year when he was seven or 18 eight years old; so he only went to school for less than a 19 year.

20               He describes himself as a poor farmer; that's what 21 he's done his entire life. He has a large family, a wife and 22 seven children, whom he supports. And he's been incredibly 23 patient in what is a pretty complicated process that we've 24 dealt with here for the last four months. I've had to meet
25 with him multiple times, and those meetings tend to be quite

1 long because we use the Mixteco interpreter, who our office
2 has to contract out to come with me, so we cover a lot of 3 information during our client meetings. And he's always been 4 very patient and very understanding and tried his hardest to 5 kind of wrap his head around what exactly is happening here
6 in terms of the process of the case.

7           From the beginning he's always recognized his 8 mistake, and your Honor sees that through the 9 stipulated-facts bench trial. To his credit, he stayed out
10 for three and a half years, which your Honor is well aware
11 of. During that time he was working in Mexico in the fields.
12 His family lives in Guerrero, but he frequently would live in 13 Sinaloa with a -- in a community of Mixtecos in order to work
14 in the fields and be able to send money back to his family.

15           I don't think your Honor will see him again. I
16 know that your Honor's disappointed to see him again, but I
17 can say that this has been a very difficult situation for 18 him. Being in custody, for him, is a little bit harder than 19 some of our typical defendants. First, he's not a hardened
20 criminal. He's not used to being exposed to people who have 21 very different backgrounds, criminal backgrounds, than him.
22 Secondly, he's apart from his family. That's the whole
23 reason why he was coming back to the United States, to make 24 some money. I filed the declaration. The money he makes in 25 Mexico is just pathetically low. But third, I referenced the

1 eye-twitching issue that he has. It required effort in 2 conjunction with me and the marshal to get him medical
3 treatment in GEO because he can't communicate to the guards
4 there, and the marshal's contact was very responsive and very 5 helpful, and actually there was a point where we were going
6 to have a Mixteco interpreter come in to the doctor's visit,
7 but it required a lot of coordination.

8 THE COURT: Is he on medication now for his 9 twitching?

10 MS. JINDAL: I think he's being treated.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 MS. JINDAL: He had to see a specialist, but it
13 went -- it was a while before he received treatment given his 14 communication barrier. So being in custody is a lot harder
15 for him. And on top of that, your Honor -- and this is kind 16 of to Ms. Trujillo's credit because she has been the 17 interpreter who's accompanied me on these visits -- and he 18 made it quite clear in the beginning he has no way to contact
19 his family; he doesn't know their phone number, but he also 20 doesn't have money. So he's not -- not somebody who is 21 having access to commissary and to the benefits of being in 22 custody because he doesn't have access to money, and I bring 23 up Ms. Trujillo because she was generous enough to help him
24 out in that regard. So he wasn't coming back just to kind
25 of -- in spite of, you know, the Court's promise that he

1 made.

2 THE COURT: What did he do for three and a half
3 years there? Did he work in Mexico?

4 MS. JINDAL: He worked in the fields, yeah.

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MS. JINDAL: So while there has been a breach of 7 trust, I think that the situation is quite mitigated given
8 his personal life in Mexico and the reason for why he 9 returned and the fact that he stayed out for so many years.
10 And in light of that, I would request a low-end sentence of 11 four months.

12 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Herrera, you also have 13 the opportunity now to speak to me and tell me what -- 14 anything you have to say. I want you to understand what this 15 proceeding is. In 2011 I placed you on probation. I let you
16 out of jail. You were in front of me, and I said
17 Mr. Herrera, now, you can't come back anymore. And you said
18 yes, Judge, I understand. And I asked you if you promised me
19 you were not coming back anymore, and you said yes, I
20 promise, I won't come back to the United States. And I said
21 okay, I'm going to trust your promise, we're going to have 22 you on probation for five years. If you come back within 23 five years, then you're going to have to answer to me for 24 breaking your promise.

25 So that's what this is about today; that's the case

1 that we're dealing with right now, not this new charge that
2 you've just been convicted of but the old case where you pled
3 guilty to coming into the United States illegally and after 4 being deported. And you face -- you face a sanction, a jail
5 sentence, for violating your promise to me, breaching the 6 trust that I placed in you. So what I'm asking you is if you
7 want to speak to me about that, anything you want to tell me
8 about yourself or about the circumstances or maybe why you
9 broke the promise that you gave to me, it's up to you to say
10 whatever you want. Can you adjust the mic down so it's in 11 front of Mr. Herrera.

12 THE DEFENDANT: I am poor and I need money. I have 13 a large family, and I wish to return to them, with them.

14 THE COURT: All right. Listen, I'm sympathetic to 15 your circumstances, I am, but you have to understand the 16 circumstances here in the United States. We're very generous
17 in our immigration policies. We allow many people to come 18 in, more than any other country in the world I'm told; we 19 have -- we allow more immigrants than any country does. But 20 we have a process for allowing people to come in, a legal 21 process where people apply, they wait in line, maybe they 22 have to pay some fees, and then there's a determination made.
23 I don't know whether you would qualify going through that 24 process or whether you're even inclined to do it, but that's 25 the process.

1           The other thing you should know is, of course, like
2 any other country, we have a right to define our border and
3 to protect our border and to make sure people that we don't 4 permit to come in don't sneak in. We can't continue to be 5 generous and allow all these people through the front door if 6 we have a horde of people breaking down the back door by 7 sneaking in, climbing over fences, or coming in through the 8 hills. And this doesn't really apply to you, but let me tell
9 you that the concern is heightened since we have been subject
10 to attacks by people from other countries. You know what 11 happened here 15 years ago when they came and knocked our 12 buildings down. There's a lot of people from foreign 13 countries that would like to get into the United States to do
14 harm here, and so our border guards have to be very vigilant
15 in guarding the borders, making sure people don't come in.

16           Now, again, I emphasize that the last point doesn't
17 apply to you at all, I know you're not here to do any harm,
18 but it does point out why we enforce the border the way we do
19 and why we expect people to respect our laws and our 20 sovereignty and, if they want to come in, to apply to come
21 in, not just to take it on their own and come in.

22           Now, I understand you have a large family. I
23 understand you were coming here to work. I made the point to 24 your lawyer that you're very different from most of the 25 defendants who are convicted of this charge. A lot of the

1 people who are charged with this offense have not only come
2 in illegally, then they -- then they commit some crime here
3 in the United States, usually very serious crime, and they
4 end up going to a state prison. And it's like a stick in the 5 eye when they do that because they're not here -- it's not
6 just that they're here illegally, but then they're committing
7 illegal conduct in the United States once they get here.
8 That's not you, and I recognize that.

9           But here's what your record is. We've told you
10 many times don't come in like this, don't do this. They tell
11 me you have had 12 different encounters with the Border
12 Patrol in the last six, seven, eight years. And they catch 13 you and they put you out and they don't refer you for 14 prosecution; at least they didn't to start with. The 15 prosecutor says oh, maybe some of those guys, he was even 16 guiding other people in. I don't know about that, but that's 17 what the prosecutor says is the records show that you may 18 have been a guide on earlier occasions.

19           But the point is we've told you many, many times
20 don't come back. And that brings me up to 2011. I remember
21 you. I remember your face. And I see a lot of people, so
22 it's unusual that I remember somebody, but I remember you.
23 And I think it's probably because I was sympathetic to you
24 then in 2011 as I am now, and because I was sympathetic when 25 I sentenced you, you and I had a discussion -- do you

1 remember me? Do you remember my face and being in front of 2 me before?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

4 THE COURT: So -- and here was -- I don't have a
5 transcript and I don't have a video like we saw today of your 6 interview with the agent, but I remember generally what was 7 said, and what I asked you back then was okay, look, you seem
8 like a nice enough fellow, Mr. Herrera, you made a mistake, I
9 don't like it that you've had to be told all this number of 10 times, but if you tell me and promise me you're not coming
11 back, I'll accept that promise and I'll let you out of jail
12 and we'll send you back to your family. And then you said to 13 me okay, Judge, I promise, I won't come back anymore, I'll 14 stay in Mexico unless I have permission to come back in.
15 Does that ring a bell with you? Do you remember a
16 conversation to that effect with me?

17 THE DEFENDANT: I do remember.

18 THE COURT: Okay. And, you know, you seemed like 19 an honorable man. A man's word and promise should be 20 respected, and I respected that. But now I'm disappointed to 21 see that you're back here after you promised me you wouldn't 22 do this again.

23 So I don't like it that you're away from your 24 family. I don't like that it you're in jail. Other than 25 this -- other than the problem of coming across the border,

1 you're not a criminal, and you should be home with your
2 family. And I understand what you're saying that the wages
3 aren't so good in Mexico, but there are many of your 4 countrymen who get up every day and they work a job and they
5 support a family and they don't come into the United States
6 illegally. And of course you have no right to do that. You
7 have to expect that our border guards are going to respond if 8 they catch you coming in illegally, climbing fences or 9 sneaking in through the hills.

10           So I'm disappointed that you didn't keep your word
11 to me. And I'm not going to be harsh with you, but I think 12 some sanction is appropriate because you did not keep your 13 word to me and because I based the sentence originally on the 14 promise that you made to me; I expected that you'd keep that 15 promise, and I held back from imposing a longer sentence back
16 in 2011 when I first sentenced you. So those are the things
17 that I wanted to say to you.

18           I hope you don't come back to the United States in 19 the future. You don't belong in jail here, but you have a 20 bad track record of getting caught, and what you should know
21 is that the sentences get longer every time you come back.
22 You're no use to your family if you're in an American jail,
23 so you need to keep that in mind. Anything else you want to 24 say?

25           THE DEFENDANT: If I get thrown out, I won't be

1 back.

2 THE COURT: I hope that's true. I hope that's
3 true. I'm not going to ask you to make a promise to me
4 anymore; I'm not sure I can trust the promise, but I want to 5 tell you that if you do come back, the sentences are going to 6 be longer and longer. And like I said, you don't look like a
7 guy who belongs in jail, you just don't to me. Mr. Katz,
8 anything on behalf of the United States?

9 MR. KATZ: Just one thing, your Honor. Mr.
10 Herrera-Hernandez mentioned that he recalls specifically
11 promising to you in his previous sentence that he wouldn't 12 come back. I know we don't have the transcript in front of 13 us. I think that -- you know, your Honor referenced 14 Maxwell's silver hammer on another issue. I know that it's 15 come up --

16 THE COURT: Came down on my head.

17 MR. KATZ: It has, your Honor, and so I just want
18 to be clear that the defendant has said that he specifically
19 remembers making that promise and that he also does not want 20 us to take the time to continue this to get the transcript to 21 confirm that that's the case. He's getting a benefit now, 22 which is this sentencing now, which is his preference as we 23 have just discussed.

24 Other than that, I think, your Honor, you hit on 25 all the points. This is not the typical defendant that we

1 see. I think that above the low end because he did breach
2 that trust and he got a benefit in the form of that sentence
3 there, but -- so the government's recommendation would be 4 eight months in the four- to ten-month range.

5 THE COURT: He's been in custody now approximately 6 153 days?

7 MS. JINDAL: Sounds about right.

8 THE COURT: That's -- no, no, that's actually
9 longer; he hasn't been in that long. If we went to June 1st,
10 it would be 153 days. If it went to the end of May, it would 11 be 153 days. And he has you said 70 days' credit on the 12 probationary sentence? He was in custody 70 days before he 13 was sentenced?

14 MS. JINDAL: Make sure I'm with you here. I think 15 that it's 72. Got to find the judgment from that case to 16 see --

17 THE COURT: Let's call it 72, Ms. Jindal. It's, 18 you know, a day here, a day there, so I'll give him the 19 benefit of the doubt on that.

20 MS. JINDAL: Okay.

21 THE COURT: The Court finds as a sanction for the 22 breach of trust in promising the Court that he would not come
23 back and being on probation and violating probation within 24 the term of probation that a sanction of 220 days is 25 appropriate, and I do impose 220 days. That is roughly seven

1 and a half months. It's less than the maximum. It's about
2 right in the middle between four and ten. Seventy-two days
3 will be credited toward that sentence, and I've included
4 that -- I've included that calculation. So the pronounced
5 sentence is 220 days, but he'll get immediate credit for 72
6 days which he did prior to being placed on probation, which I
7 think takes this out just about to June 1st; that's the time
8 on this.

9           Having revoked probation and imposed a sentence,
10 the Court also places Mr. Herrera on supervised release now
11 on the 2011 case. He faces three years of supervised
12 release. I impose three years of supervised release to begin
13 when he's released from custody after serving his sentence
14 for the breach of trust.

15           The two conditions of supervised release are that 16 Mr. Herrera may not return to the United States. If he comes 17 back, he's going to face more time in jail. And second, he 18 may not violate any United States law. So on the old case,
19 the 2011 case, three years' supervised release following
20 serving 220 days subject to the credit that he already had 21 accrued. Obviously any time he's been in custody will also 22 count toward that 220 days, so from November 15 forward. By 23 my math that gets us out to about May 31, real close to 24 June 1st, before he completes that sentence, the unserved
25 portion of it.

1 MS. JINDAL: I think -- so he would effectively
2 have about 160 days by my --

3 THE COURT: Yeah, it's 153 is what my calculations
4 were, net time.

5 MS. JINDAL: So 150 days from November 15 would
6 be -- I have an app on my phone, your Honor -- is April 14.
7 So he would have served 150 days by April, mid April.

8 THE COURT: Well, then my math is off on this. Let 9 me do it again because -- maybe the easiest thing to do is to 10 just to -- let's see -- it's between four and ten months. If 11 I give him a eight-month sentence -- does your app tell us
12 where that would put us, eight months from November 15? I
13 mean June 1st is six months; from January 1st to June 1st 14 is --

15 MS. JINDAL: So eight months --

16 THE COURT: Actually five months, right? January,
17 February, March, April, May, so there's five months, call 18 them 30 day months. That's 150 days just for that. Then he 19 has another roughly 46 days. So that would be 196 days to 20 get out to June 1st. And then if I add -- you said 72
21 days -- actually what was the pronounced sentence that I
22 made? I come up with 168 days all together, but maybe -- I'm 23 sorry, it's 268. That's where my math is wrong. So I'm two 24 months shy. I'm sorry. I made a mathematical error. The 25 sentence is 268 days. He'll get 72 days' credit, if you're

1 right on your accounting, for the time that he had before he
2 was put on probation, right? And then he's accumulated
3 credits now since November 15 and today, which further takes 4 it down, and it means he's got about two months left to 5 serve; he's got April and May to serve on this sanction. So
6 I apologize for the math error. I was doing it a little bit
7 in my head. I've done it now on paper.

8           The sanction is 268 days, subject to those credits.
9 So, Mr. Herrera, here's what you should understand. That 10 sentence seems long; 268 days seems like a long time.
11 Immediately you're going to get credit for the 70 days that 12 you did, 72 days, back in 2011, so that comes off. Then 13 you've been in custody since November; you're going to get 14 credit for that too. What this means is that you have about 15 two months left. Here we are on the 24th of March. You'd be 16 in custody April and May, and then you'll be out around
17 June 1st on this sentence. After you complete serving this 18 sentence, you'll be on supervised release for three years,
19 which means don't come back because you'll have to face
20 additional time if you get caught back in the United States
21 again.

22           Sentencing on the new case, Ms. Jindal, will be on 23 Monday, the 1st of June at 9:30. You can file whatever you
24 need. Does he waive his right to a presentence report?

25           MS. JINDAL: He does.

1           THE COURT: Okay. And I don't know how much work
2 you need to do on the -- on the challenge to the prior 3 because the Court, at this point at least, absent some 4 aggravation, would be inclined to place him on five years'
5 probation on the new case. I'm happy to hear from both
6 sides. I assume that would be your recommendation anyway,
7 something like no more time as of June 1st, right --

8           MS. JINDAL: Correct.

9           THE COURT: -- whether it's a probationary sentence
10 or some other form of sentence. But -- and I'm inclined not 11 to give him any more time. I mean this is a -- I won't say a
12 significant increase, but it's an increase over the 70 days
13 that he did before. So that's where I'm at.

14           So I'll see you on June 1st at 9:30 for sentencing
15 on the new case. You have no objection to that, Ms. Jindal, 16 putting the new case off until that day given the Court has 17 now pronounced sentence on the -- or the probation violation?

18           MS. JINDAL: No, your Honor. I'm fine with that.

19           THE COURT: Okay. Anything else?

20           MR. KATZ: No, your Honor. Thank you.

21           THE DEFENDANT: Thank you.

22           MS. JINDAL: Actually I just thought of one final
23 thing, your Honor.

24           THE COURT: Sure.

25           MS. JINDAL: It's a clerical issue. I don't think

1 that we're going to end up needing this, but I notice this
2 morning that the motion that was refiled after the Court
3 struck the original motion to dismiss, the refiled motion to 4 dismiss has a typo where it looks like Raya-Vaca was 5 spelling -- auto-corrected to a different word.

6 THE COURT: Okay.

7 MS. JINDAL: What I would request is permission for 8 me to file an amended version.

9 THE COURT: If you want to do that; you can
10 interlineate it, or I'll note the correction at this --

11 MS. JINDAL: Okay. If your Honor's going to note
12 it, then that should be good enough.

13 THE COURT: I do. I have it here, and I've spelled
14 it already for the record, but it's R-a-y-a hyphen V-a-c-a,
15 so -- okay. Look, I don't like it that you're in jail, I
16 don't, I don't like it. You seem like a nice guy, you seem 17 like a family man, but you're putting me in this position by 18 keep coming back here without permission. You can't expect 19 us just to ignore that. We have a border, and we have laws.
20 So I feel bad that you're sitting in jail, and I feel bad
21 that you're aside from your family, but -- is there a mirror
22 in the cell where you're sitting? Is there a mirror there?
23 Yes? Okay. When you go back -- when you go back this 24 afternoon, you look in the mirror because the guy you see in 25 the mirror is the guy who's going to be responsible for you

1 being in jail, not me. I'm just reacting to it. It's the 2 guy that made the decision to come back across after he
3 promised me he wouldn't and knowing that it was wrong to come
4 back across; that's the guy that's responsible. I'm sorry
5 about that, and I wish you Godspeed. I hope it comes quickly
6 that you come back and we get you back to your family and 7 that you stay there in the future. Okay?

8 THE DEFENDANT: Thank you.

9 THE COURT: All right.
